Thruway House Moving Is Under Way

House moving is started in earnest along the next strip of the New York State Thruway in the Kingston area, it was learned today. Above is the house of Mrs. Julianna Port, of the Sawkill road, which was moved 500 feet to a new foundation yesterday by Arnold S. Rymkevitch, of Boiceville, who had moved another in the same area several weeks ago, and is scheduled to start soon to move others along Route 28 in the area where the traffic interchange will be built. The next on schedule, he said is that of Vincent Maggiore, truck garden farmer. Some time ago Rymkevitch moved a house six miles in the Lackawack area, and more recently he has moved others from the thruway alignment in the Albany and Ravena areas. (Freeman photo)

Lodge Says U. S. Must End Discrimination, Human Indignities to Impress World

Asks Church Help

Says Equality, Justice More Powerful Than Dollars, Bullets

Denver, Dec. 11 (AP) — Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., believes America must end discrimination and human indignities at home before it can lead the world to lasting peace.

Lodge, one of the architects of President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower's still-forming foreign policy, last night asked leaders of 30 Protestant churches to work for "a durable peace based on justice" in this way:

"Work for an America that is strong militarily, economically and politically; support the United Nations; work to make it stronger; advance tolerance and human rights, encourage private American activity abroad and hold out to all of suffering humanity the hope of liberty."

"Our discriminations," Lodge added, "are not only in conflict with Christian ideals, but they are a real danger to the success of our foreign policy."

Equality Necessary

The United States cannot defeat the idea of communism with dollars or bullets, Lodge asserted. It must do it by putting into practice the American ideal of equality and justice for all, he declared.

Lodge, a Massachusetts Republican, has been designated by Eisenhower as ambassador to the United Nations. He said the UN "has not lived up to all that was hoped for it." He added the U. S. can and must work to make the UN better, saying:

"Without world order, our ultimate destruction is only a matter of time."

He asserted world opinion, generated in the debates of the UN, has been a powerful deterrent to armed aggression by Russia, which he said has "overwhelming military power in Europe and Asia."

To Hear Dulles

Another major foreign policy speech is to be heard by the more than 2,000 church leaders here late today. John Foster Dulles, designated Eisenhower's secretary of state, recorded the speech before leaving for conferences in the Pacific. It will be played at the church meeting and later broadcast (CBS, 10:30 p. m. EST).

The speech reportedly follows the same general line as Lodge's talk: A call for Americans to practice fully the ideals on which the nation was founded.

Meanwhile, these were other developments at the General Assembly of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A.:

1. The 30th denomination, the Greek Orthodox Church with its million members in this country, was admitted to the council. It brings council representation to 34,600,000 persons. Only two of the larger Protestant denominations—the Missouri Synod of the Lutheran Church and the Southern Baptists—do not belong.

2. Methodist Bishop William C. Martin, 59, of Dallas reportedly was favored to succeed Episcopal Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill of New York as council president. The election is tomorrow.

3. The Division of Christian Education outlined an experimental project to educate young people in Christian communities. Set at the local level, it would concentrate on ethical conduct, demo-

Three Thousand Troops Attack South Korean Lines, Gain Hill on West Front

Artillery Helps

Chinese Throw Savage Big Gun Fire Against Enemy

Seoul, Dec. 11 (AP) — Chinese Communists stabbed through withering allied artillery fire today to hurl South Korean defenders from Little Nori Hill on the western front for the second time in 17 hours.

Frontline officers said the Reds hurled 3,000 men into the attacks their biggest in a month.

South Korean troops withdrew at dusk in the face of a two-company (300 to 350 men) Communist attack. The Chinese advanced through a thundering 1,000-round artillery barrage from their own guns.

Associated Press Correspondent Milo Farneti reported from the front that Communist big guns were stepping up the savage bombardment that began just before the Reds opened the see-saw battle shortly after midnight.

An estimated 10,000 rounds of artillery and mortar fire fell on allied positions.

152 Reds Killed

Farneti said the Reds suffered an estimated 270 casualties—152 killed and at least 118 wounded.

The Chinese had captured Little Nori earlier, but the South Koreans stormed back up the slope in fierce counterattacks despite a barrage of 2,000 Red shells.

Some 200 allied war planes hurled heavy blows at Red positions on the western front.

Reports from the front said the Communists wrested the south slope of nearby Big Nori Hill from the South Koreans, who were making no effort to regain that ground. The Reds already held the north slope.

Among Imjin River

Both Big and Little Nori are located along the Imjin river in the freezing Kelly Hill area, where gnarled knobs rise irregularly to form stepping stones in the bloody battle of the hills.

In the air, allied aircraft maurading behind Red lines reported destruction of 11 Red supply vehicles caught in the open. B-26 invaders destroyed 75 others last night.

Okinawa-based U. S. B-29s dumped 120 tons of bombs on four Chinese targets near the North Korean capital of Pyongyang. Barracks and a steel mill were the principal targets.

Fifth Air Force and Marine fighter-bombers blasted four Communist artillery positions.

Freighter Is Sunk Inside Coast Bay

San Francisco, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Norwegian freighter Fernstream sank inside the bay today shortly after colliding with the freighter Hawaiian Rancher, but the Fernstream's crew escaped in lifeboats.

The crash occurred just west of Alcatraz Island in a murky fog and drizzle.

The Hawaiian Rancher immediately flashed an SOS and the coast guard hurriedly dispatched three rescue boats to the scene.

The coast guard later reported that the Fernstream's crew of 42 men had taken to the lifeboats when their ship began to go under.

The coast guard said there was only one minor injury reported — a Fernstream crew member suffered a wrist injury.

Phoenicia Reports 3.91 Inches of Rain—None Stranded

Swollen waters of the upper Esopus Creek closed the Onteora Trail to all traffic from Beechford to Mt. Tremper shortly before noon today.

An estimated one and one-half to two feet of water covered the pavement at Winne's Garage a short distance east of Mt. Tremper at noon today, it was reported at the garage.

The New York Water Department reported early this afternoon that water was at the 16-foot level at the Cold Brook station, about 10 feet above normal, and was still rising.

Rains Are Heavy

The Esopus Creek above the Ashokan reservoir reached flood stage early today and by 10:30 a. m. water was reported over the pavement of the Onteora Trail at Winne's Garage and Smith's Garage near Mt. Tremper.

With the Ashokan reservoir 20 feet below the flashfloods of the spillway at that time, there appeared little immediate likelihood of flooding in the lower Esopus, New York's Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity reported.

Rainfall Figures

Rainfall figures in the watershed are varied from 1.49 inches at Brown Station at the Ashokan Reservoir to 3.91 inches at Phoenicia, the department reported.

In the Schoharie watershed, rainfall of 2.74 inches was reported at Tannersville, 2.41 at East Jewett, 1.45 at West Kill and 1.06 at Prattsville. All figures are for the 24-hour period ending at 8 a. m. today.

State Police Cpl. Ray Dunn of Phoenicia reported this morning that a small bridge used for hauling lumber out of a woodlot had washed away, and that water was over the Onteora Trail at two

Brownell Has Plan For Housecleaning In His Department

Attorney General-to-Be Is to Get Rid of Anyone Linked With U. S. Scandal

By DON WHITEHEAD

Aboard USS Helenea en route to Hawaii, Dec. (AP)—An authoritative source disclosed today that Attorney General-Designate Herbert Brownell has completed plans for a giant housecleaning in the Department of Justice.

Brownell, the informant said, plans to fire anyone whose name has been even remotely linked with government scandal and is determined to restore prestige to every division of the department.

Attorney General James P. McGranery has fired or accepted the resignations of a number of key officials in his department in the last few months.

Brownell's first move after taking office Jan. 20, the source said, will be to sweep out of office virtually all those in the policy-making level of the department. The cleanout also will affect attorneys in the Washington offices, and U. S. district attorneys and U. S. marshals.

"If he finds a good career man who has been doing a good job, Brownell will keep him whether he's a Democrat or a Republican," the informant added.

Brownell was one of President-elect Dwight Eisenhower's top political advisers in the Presidential campaign.

It is understood he will give top priority to investigating cases dealing with Communism and subversion.

Korean Trip Is Labelled Demagogic

President Tells Press MacArthur Might Have Reported to Him as Act of Decency

Says Trip Useless

States MacArthur Gave Him Misinformation at Wake Island

Washington, Dec. 11 (AP)—President Truman today rejected suggestions that he hold a White House conference with Generals Eisenhower and MacArthur—and he blasted both of them.

Truman called President-elect Eisenhower's campaign announcement that he would go to Korea a piece of demagoguery.

And he told his news conference that MacArthur should have reported to him on returning from Japan following MacArthur's ouster last year. Truman said that is what any decent man would have done.

In Reply to Queries

Truman spoke up in response to questions arising from MacArthur's speech to the National Association of Manufacturers in New York last Friday that "there is a clear and definite solution" to the Korean conflict.

Eisenhower said during his campaign that he would go to Korea in his efforts to bring about a speedy and honorable end to the Korean war.

Earlier this week, Eisenhower messaged MacArthur that he would be happy to meet with him to discuss any plans the former Far Eastern commander might have for ending the Korean war.

Eisenhower sent his telegram to MacArthur from the cruiser on which he is returning from the Korean trip to undertook to carry out his campaign pledge.

Challenges MacArthur

Truman then challenged MacArthur to tell him any ideas he may have for ending the war. He said it was MacArthur's duty.

And some congressmen suggested Truman meet with both President-elect Eisenhower and MacArthur to try to achieve a program for peace.

Truman came to his news conference today obviously ready to do battle with the two generals. To dramatize the conference, he permitted still photographers and television and newsreel cameramen to make pictures before actual questioning started.

The TV films were made for later showing. There was no live telecast of the news conference.

Truman said he travelled more than 14,000 miles to see MacArthur at Wake Island about all he got for that was a lot of misinformation.

Speaks of Wake Meeting

Asked what this misinformation was, Truman said MacArthur told him at their historic meeting at Wake Island, Oct. 14, 1950.

1. The Chinese would not move into Korea.

2. It would be possible to send a division of the regular U. S. Army from Korea to Germany for occupation purposes to relieve another division by January, 1951.

3. That MacArthur was sure the war was over.

Truman fired MacArthur April 11, 1951.

MacArthur gave no details of any Korean peace plan in his New York speech last Friday. He did say it would not lead to unduly heavy allied casualties.

The news conference opened with a question asking the President's reaction to a suggestion by Sen. Watkins (R.-Utah) that he invite Eisenhower and MacArthur

Aboard USS Helena en route to Hawaii, Dec. 11 (AP)—Rested and relaxed. President-elect Dwight Eisenhower arrives in Honolulu today (2 p. m. EST) for more of the vital conferences that will shape America's policy in the Far East.

Eisenhower will remain until the weekend, then fly to his New York Headquarters. Shortly thereafter he will meet with Gen. Douglas MacArthur to discuss the latter's implied plan for shortening the Korea War. That meeting probably will be held early next week, said the source close to the President-elect.

Eisenhower did not comment on President Truman's statement "if anyone has a reasonable plan for ending the Korean fighting

Supermarket Is Likely As Zoning Bids Change

Bridge Work Held Back by Weather

Thruway Section Might Be Open Early Next Week

The Saugerties-Sawkill section of the New York State Thruway, if weather permits should be open to traffic early next week, it was learned today.

James F. Loughran, county highway superintendent, said recent rain delayed work on the redecking of a bridge in the Lake Katrine area, but it should be finished early next week unless unfavorable weather lasts too long.

It was planned, when work on the bridge started this week, to have it finished and ready for traffic on Sunday, but the rain held up the work.

Signs Are Ordered

A. R. Erskine, engineer of the State Thruway Authority, at Poughkeepsie, said the state has ordered signs to divert heavy vehicles away from the Sawkill-Saugerties section of the route, which will be opened as soon as possible after completion of the bridge deck.

Travel on the thruway will be possible between Catskill and the Lake Katrine-Sawkill areas after the southern end is opened next week.

It was indicated today that John Aborio, contractor on the section between Sawkill and Route 28 may stay on the job most of the winter if the weather does not turn suddenly severe. An engineer said the men will be able to handle stone work during cold weather, but not much can be done with ground excavation and grading.

1,468 Motor Deaths

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 11 (AP)—A total of 1,468 persons died as a result of motor vehicle accidents in New York state during the first nine months of this year, the state said today.

Roosevelt Park Sector Residents Agree on Buffer Area Behind Store

Resubmitted applications for rezoning that would permit the building of a supermarket near the Roosevelt Park area, appeared to be more acceptable to residents of the section at a public hearing last night because of buffer zone provisions.

First applications by Martin Moran Inc., for a zoning change on one tract, and by Harold Halwick and John W. Evans, for the other, met with firm opposition at a hearing several weeks ago, and was voted down by the Common Council.

Agree on Buffer Zone

The applicants resubmitted their bids for changes recently with buffer zone provisions and Attorney Fred Stang, representing residents of Roosevelt Park, said his clients were not objecting and "agreed to go along with the building of the market," with assurance that the buffer zone would preclude any business along Madison and Wilson avenues, and Manor Place.

Applications for business zone designations by Earl Sickler for a property at 479 Albany avenue, and by Jennie Silverman for 567-69 Albany avenue, were unopposed.

Avis Suggests Changes

Joseph Avis, chairman of the local zoning board, appeared as attorney for the latter, and while in the city hall left with City Clerk Bernhardt S. Kramer, a list of proposed changes to zoning laws which are to be submitted at the next Common Council meeting.

Two residents of the Roosevelt Park area appeared to be skeptical of traffic conditions that might come of a market in the area, and were advised that such problems would be met by the police chief and traffic control committee of the Common Council.

Attorney Charles Gaffney appeared for Martin-Moran Inc., and Vincent G. Connelly appeared for Halwick and Evans.

Cites Good Faith

N. Jansen Fowler, attorney for the Grand Union Co. which plans to acquire the property from Martin and Moran and Halwick and Evans, replying to those who were skeptical of enforcement of the buffer zone provision, said there was no reason to expect that the company, which would be doing business with residents of the area, would not act in good faith.

Both applicants, owning the lands which fringe the Roosevelt Park area, in resubmitting their bids for zoning changes, said a five-foot buffer zone would be maintained wherever the tract bordered residential streets.

The hearings were conducted by Alderman Abram D. Relyea, chairman of the laws and rules committee, of the Common Council, which is expected to report on the

Truman to Replace 7 on WSB Soon

Organized Labor, Business Oppose Plan to Have Wage Control Again

Washington, Dec. 11 (AP)—President Truman said today he expects to replace the resigned industry members of the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) before the end of the week.

All seven members representing industry quit last week in protest against the President's action in overruling the board in the coal mine wage case.

Truman told a news conference that economic controls should be extended beyond April 30.

May Name DiSalle

He said he not only expected to announce industry members for the Wage Board, but that he expected to have a replacement for Roger Putnam when Putnam steps out as economic stabilization administrator. He verified reports that former Price Administrator Michael V. DiSalle was under consideration for Putnam's post.

Truman's announced intention to get the wage control program functioning again has run into opposition from elements of organized labor, as well as business organizations.

Bus Company Is Permitted To Buy Hudson Transport

Albany, Dec. 11 (AP)—Adirondack Transit Lines Inc., of Kingston has Public Service Commission approval to purchase operating rights and equipment of the Hudson Transportation Company of Glens Falls for $100,000.

Sanction of the transfer was announced by the PSC yesterday, the sale will be effective Dec. 31.

Adirondack Transit will acquire bus operations in Glens Falls, Hudson Falls, Ft. Edward, South Glens Falls and Saratoga Springs; the towns of Queensbury, Moreau, Wilton and Greenfield, all in Warren county, and Hudson lines in Washington and Saratoga counties.

Adirondack also will obtain Hudson's 28 buses, and all other equipment except a bus garage in the town of Queensbury. Hudson will lease this to Adirondack.

Also approved by the PSC was transfer to the Kingston firm of an operating agreement that Hudson Transportation now has with L. B. K. Lines Inc., covering bus service between Albany and Glens Falls.

The sale will consolidate Adirondack's operations in upstate New York.

Hudson Transportation had been operating at a deficit in recent months. However, the PSC declined to permit dissolution of Hudson at this time. It cited as a reason the necessity of settling outstanding liability claims now pending against Hudson.

PSC Examiner Van M. Parshall said in a report to the commission that Adirondack proposed to operate at least as many trips as Hudson, and planned to add one early morning and one late evening trip between Saratoga Springs and Glens Falls.

Parshall also said that Adirondack probably would close its present garage and office in Lake George and shift these operations to an area headquarters in Glens Falls.

Truman called President-elect Eisenhower's campaign announcement that he would go to Korea a piece of demagoguery.

And he told his news conference that MacArthur should have reported to him on returning from Japan following MacArthur's ouster last year. Truman said that is what any decent man would have done.

In Reply to Queries

Truman spoke up in response to questions arising from MacArthur's speech to the National Association of Manufacturers in New York last Friday that "there is a clear and definite solution" to the Korean conflict.

Eisenhower said during his campaign that he would go to Korea in his efforts to bring about a speedy and honorable end to the Korean war.

Earlier this week, Eisenhower messaged MacArthur that he would be happy to meet with him to discuss any plans the former Far Eastern commander might have for ending the Korean war.

Eisenhower sent his telegram to MacArthur from the cruiser on which he is returning from the Korean trip to undertook to carry out his campaign pledge.

Challenges MacArthur

Truman then challenged MacArthur to tell him any ideas he may have for ending the war. He said it was MacArthur's duty.

And some congressmen suggested Truman meet with both President-elect Eisenhower and MacArthur to try to achieve a program for peace.

Truman came to his news conference today obviously ready to do battle with the two generals. To dramatize the conference, he permitted still photographers and television and newsreel cameramen to make pictures before actual questioning started.

The TV films were made for later showing. There was no live telecast of the news conference.

Truman said he travelled more than 14,000 miles to see MacArthur at Wake Island about all he got for that was a lot of misinformation.

Speaks of Wake Meeting

Asked what this misinformation was, Truman said MacArthur told him at their historic meeting at Wake Island, Oct. 14, 1950.

1. The Chinese would not move into Korea.

2. It would be possible to send a division of the regular U. S. Army from Korea to Germany for occupation purposes to relieve another division by January, 1951.

3. That MacArthur was sure the war was over.

Truman fired MacArthur April 11, 1951.

MacArthur gave no details of any Korean peace plan in his New York speech last Friday. He did say it would not lead to unduly heavy allied casualties.

The news conference opened with a question asking the President's reaction to a suggestion by Sen. Watkins (R.-Utah) that he invite Eisenhower and MacArthur

Eisenhower Is Due To Reach Hawaii

Aboard USS Helena en route to Hawaii, Dec. 11 (AP)—Rested and relaxed. President-elect Dwight Eisenhower arrives in Honolulu today (2 p. m. EST) for more of the vital conferences that will shape America's policy in the Far East.

Eisenhower will remain until the weekend, then fly to his New York Headquarters. Shortly thereafter he will meet with Gen. Douglas MacArthur to discuss the latter's implied plan for shortening the Korea War. That meeting probably will be held early next week, said the source close to the President-elect.

Eisenhower did not comment on President Truman's statement "if anyone has a reasonable plan for ending the Korean fighting

Supermarket Is Likely As Zoning Bids Change

Bridge Work Held Back by Weather

Thruway Section Might Be Open Early Next Week

The Saugerties-Sawkill section of the New York State Thruway, if weather permits should be open to traffic early next week, it was learned today.

James F. Loughran, county highway superintendent, said recent rain delayed work on the redecking of a bridge in the Lake Katrine area, but it should be finished early next week unless unfavorable weather lasts too long.

It was planned, when work on the bridge started this week, to have it finished and ready for traffic on Sunday, but the rain held up the work.

Signs Are Ordered

A. R. Erskine, engineer of the State Thruway Authority, at Poughkeepsie, said the state has ordered signs to divert heavy vehicles away from the Sawkill-Saugerties section of the route, which will be opened as soon as possible after completion of the bridge deck.

Travel on the thruway will be possible between Catskill and the Lake Katrine-Sawkill areas after the southern end is opened next week.

It was indicated today that John Aborio, contractor on the section between Sawkill and Route 28 may stay on the job most of the winter if the weather does not turn suddenly severe. An engineer said the men will be able to handle stone work during cold weather, but not much can be done with ground excavation and grading.

1,468 Motor Deaths

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 11 (AP)—A total of 1,468 persons died as a result of motor vehicle accidents in New York state during the first nine months of this year, the state said today.

Roosevelt Park Sector Residents Agree on Buffer Area Behind Store

Resubmitted applications for rezoning that would permit the building of a supermarket near the Roosevelt Park area, appeared to be more acceptable to residents of the section at a public hearing last night because of buffer zone provisions.

First applications by Martin Moran Inc., for a zoning change on one tract, and by Harold Halwick and John W. Evans, for the other, met with firm opposition at a hearing several weeks ago, and was voted down by the Common Council.

Agree on Buffer Zone

The applicants resubmitted their bids for changes recently with buffer zone provisions and Attorney Fred Stang, representing residents of Roosevelt Park, said his clients were not objecting and "agreed to go along with the building of the market," with assurance that the buffer zone would preclude any business along Madison and Wilson avenues, and Manor Place.

Applications for business zone designations by Earl Sickler for a property at 479 Albany avenue, and by Jennie Silverman for 567-69 Albany avenue, were unopposed.

Avis Suggests Changes

Joseph Avis, chairman of the local zoning board, appeared as attorney for the latter, and while in the city hall left with City Clerk Bernhardt S. Kramer, a list of proposed changes to zoning laws which are to be submitted at the next Common Council meeting.

Two residents of the Roosevelt Park area appeared to be skeptical of traffic conditions that might come of a market in the area, and were advised that such problems would be met by the police chief and traffic control committee of the Common Council.

Attorney Charles Gaffney appeared for Martin-Moran Inc., and Vincent G. Connelly appeared for Halwick and Evans.

Cites Good Faith

N. Jansen Fowler, attorney for the Grand Union Co. which plans to acquire the property from Martin and Moran and Halwick and Evans, replying to those who were skeptical of enforcement of the buffer zone provision, said there was no reason to expect that the company, which would be doing business with residents of the area, would not act in good faith.

Both applicants, owning the lands which fringe the Roosevelt Park area, in resubmitting their bids for zoning changes, said a five-foot buffer zone would be maintained wherever the tract bordered residential streets.

The hearings were conducted by Alderman Abram D. Relyea, chairman of the laws and rules committee, of the Common Council, which is expected to report on the

Truman to Replace 7 on WSB Soon

Organized Labor, Business Oppose Plan to Have Wage Control Again

Washington, Dec. 11 (AP)—President Truman said today he expects to replace the resigned industry members of the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) before the end of the week.

All seven members representing industry quit last week in protest against the President's action in overruling the board in the coal mine wage case.

Truman told a news conference that economic controls should be extended beyond April 30.

May Name DiSalle

He said he not only expected to announce industry members for the Wage Board, but that he expected to have a replacement for Roger Putnam when Putnam steps out as economic stabilization administrator. He verified reports that former Price Administrator Michael V. DiSalle was under consideration for Putnam's post.

Truman's announced intention to get the wage control program functioning again has run into opposition from elements of organized labor, as well as business organizations.

Bus Company Is Permitted To Buy Hudson Transport

Albany, Dec. 11 (AP)—Adirondack Transit Lines Inc., of Kingston has Public Service Commission approval to purchase operating rights and equipment of the Hudson Transportation Company of Glens Falls for $100,000.

Sanction of the transfer was announced by the PSC yesterday, the sale will be effective Dec. 31.

Adirondack Transit will acquire bus operations in Glens Falls, Hudson Falls, Ft. Edward, South Glens Falls and Saratoga Springs; the towns of Queensbury, Moreau, Wilton and Greenfield, all in Warren county, and Hudson lines in Washington and Saratoga counties.

Adirondack also will obtain Hudson's 28 buses, and all other equipment except a bus garage in the town of Queensbury. Hudson will lease this to Adirondack.

Also approved by the PSC was transfer to the Kingston firm of an operating agreement that Hudson Transportation now has with L. B. K. Lines Inc., covering bus service between Albany and Glens Falls.

The sale will consolidate Adirondack's operations in upstate New York.

Hudson Transportation had been operating at a deficit in recent months. However, the PSC declined to permit dissolution of Hudson at this time. It cited as a reason the necessity of settling outstanding liability claims now pending against Hudson.

PSC Examiner Van M. Parshall said in a report to the commission that Adirondack proposed to operate at least as many trips as Hudson, and planned to add one early morning and one late evening trip between Saratoga Springs and Glens Falls.

Parshall also said that Adirondack probably would close its present garage and office in Lake George and shift these operations to an area headquarters in Glens Falls.

31 Persons Die In China Crackup

Taipeh, Formosa, Dec. 11 (AP)—A Nationalist Chinese Air Force transport crashed into a mountainside near Taipeh Monday and killed 31 persons, including two women and three children, it was reported today.

The victims included 26 members of the air force. The women and children were dependents of air force personnel.

Air force headquarters said the plane was en route to Taipeh from Pingtung, a World War 2 Japanese Kamikaze base in southern Formosa.

The pilot ran into bad weather and decided to land at Taoyuan, 25 miles from here. As he came down out of the clouds the plane smashed into a mountainside. It was the worst disaster in the history of the Nationalist Air Force.

Foggy Days Blamed

London, Dec. 10 (AP)—Four days of oppressive fog which blanketed London earlier this week were blamed today for speeding the deaths of at least 160 elderly persons in the city. The total may exceed 200. Inquests were few as most victims had been under medical attention. The sickening blanket of dirt-laden mist that lifted only yesterday largely aggravated their conditions, hastening death. Almost all suffered from chest or respiratory ailments or heart disease.

FEDERAL INFORMATION PRACTICES

To tell us about the workings of our federal government, we have government press officers by the hundreds. Yet there is a strong feeling that we don't learn enough about what really goes on in Washington.

Robert Ramspeck, chairman of the U. S. Civil Service Commission, thinks we ought to have a complete, non-political study of the work done by government information men. It sounds like a good idea.

Since the problems of the various departments vary so greatly, we should not expect to find — nor should we demand — a high degree of uniformity in information practices. Obviously the State Department, the Defense Department and the Atomic Energy Commission cannot be looked to for the kind of information polices we might anticipate in the Interior Department. Vital secrets must be kept.

Still, we do have the right to expect from all departments a sincere effort to disclose to the American people every bit of information essential to their understanding of the government's activities, so long as it does not jeopardize security to release it.

There isn't any convincing evidence that we are getting that sort of help from information officers today. Here and there an extremely competent press aide turns up. But too many deal in calculated vagueness. Too many consider it their job to protect their superiors, to save them from embarrassment, rather than to inform.

Some of these, too, actually become vigorous advocates and special pleaders for the policies and programs of the department they represent. Ramspeck rightly raises the question whether or not this is proper.

In other words, should a press officer be a propagandist for the "ins"? With his easy access to the news outlets, he can promote his boss or the department's viewpoint with good effect. Ought he to spend his time thus?

We could hardly expect a press agent to portray his department in a bad light and hold his job. But we may fairly inquire into the question of where he should stop to avoid being a mere "voice of defense" for his agency.

Here, again, is opportunity for the incoming Eisenhower administration to clear away the underbrush, take a good, hard look, and set out upon a new course if the circumstances warrant, as they certainly seem to in this instance.

EXPERIENCED DULLES

Japan is especially glad to receive news of President-elect Eisenhower's choice of John Foster Dulles as his secretary of state. The Japanese have a high regard for Dulles. They also remember him as the framer of the peace treaty which gave Japan her present status as a free and independent power.

This is a particularly cheering reaction because Japan is slated to play an important role in future American moves in the far east. Knowing that the leader of America's state department is liked and respected by the people whose islands we need as bases and bastions may give our leaders more confidence.

Eisenhower apparently picked Dulles with plans in mind for consolidation of our defense resources in many places, especially in the touchy areas of the Asiatic world. America is fortunate to have Dulles in her ranks. He is likely to supply a needed ingredient of experience in the untried cabinet.

SPIRITS AND CHRISTMAS

Christmas parties held at plants and offices are a nice tradition and help those who work together to share the holiday spirit. But often at these affairs liquor is served and persons returning home after the party have automobile accidents which turn the merriment into tragedy.

Many cities in recent years have embarked on campaigns to urge that no liquor be served at such functions. Restrictions of that nature may seem too severe but the number of accidents which occur during the holidays justifies the action. Those planning parties at the places where they work should take this into account. One serious accident can dampen the holiday mood of an entire group.

JAMES McGRANERY

When James P. McGranery was appointed Attorney General of the United States last April, I said in a radio broadcast:

"McGranery . . . is a likable person and a friend of mine, and although we have been on opposite sides of most questions, I would say that he will try to do a decent job. . . ."

I immediately received a large mail attacking my judgment of the man. Yet, the fact is that he has established an enviable record of having restored the reputation of the Department of Justice as the law enforcement arm of the government. It would be too much to say that he had been able, in this short time, to clean out all the corrupt personnel and the incompetent time-servers who settled down in safe berths over a 20-year period.

But for the first time since Harlan Stone was Attorney General (1924), the FBI has been properly used by an Attorney General. For 20 years, at least, this most effective agency of government, limited as to its functions by law, subordinate to the Attorney General, has diligently been gathering data on criminals, spies and subversives only to find that adequately prepared cases got lost in the Department of Justice.

James McGranery has resurrected many of these cases and either put them on the docket or if the statute of limitations had already run, he has handed the cases to Congressional committees for investigation. He has cooperated with the Chelf Committee of Congress in this manner as he has with the McCarran Committee. It had been the habit of the Department of Justice heretofore to resist the search by Congressional committees for data.

In the matter of American employes of the United Nations who are subversives or who engage in espionage, the Department of Justice did an amazingly swift and competent job since James McGranery became Attorney General. He appointed Roy M. Cohn a special assistant to ferret out these cases. Roy Cohn is one of a handful of lawyers who are expert in this field.

The story goes that the Federal Grand Jury ran away in this case and resisted interference by the Department of Justice. It will be found, if the subject is ever investigated, that tremendous pressure was put on the Attorney General to drop the investigation of UN subversives and even to dismiss Cohn. However, Cohn remained on the job; the cooperation between the Department of Justice and the McCarran Committee was a wonderful example of team-work against subversives. Had a similar effort been made years ago, the spy Arthur Adams would not have escaped.

I once heard James McGranery say that he would not be Attorney General long enough to try the cases that need their day in court, but that before he left office, he would put them on the docket for his successor to handle. The case of Owen Lattimore is in point. Anyone who has read the full testimony before the Tydings Committee and the McCarran Committee must have felt that the confusions and contradictions required further investigation. Senator Pat McCarran recommended that the Department of Justice deal with the Lattimore case before a grand jury.

It would be wrong in the American sense of justice to assume that Lattimore cannot clear himself or that he is guilty of anything, even perjury, before it is so proved. On the other hand, when contradictions give rise to the assumption of perjury, the place to deal with the matter is not in the State Department or the President's office, but before a Federal Grand Jury. This is now being done.

Usually, when a Cabinet officer passes into retirement, after the opposite party has been elected, no one sheds a tear and the farewell is none too fond. However, McGranery's short tenure in office has been so exceptional that it has attracted attention.

He came in as a makeshift to save President Truman embarrassment when his predecessor, J. Howard McGrath, was forced out under circumstances which still require clarification. He could have sat on his hands waiting for the appointment of his successor. He had no prospects of reappointment by either Adlai Stevenson or General Eisenhower.

Yet, he has exposed and dismissed crooks, brought cases to the light of day, fought subversives, put the limelight on spies, and created a host of personal and political enemies who will not forget that he smashed their nefarious careers.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

RHEUMATOID ARTHRITIS

While there are many kinds of forms of rheumatism and arthritis, the commonest kind, the one that affects most people, is known as rheumatoid arthritis in which there is inflammation of the ends of bones forming a joint and the tissues surrounding and for a short distance below and above the joint.

In Handbook of Therapy (treatment), published by the American Medical Association, it is stated that "rational treatment of rheumatoid arthritis embraces removal of foci of infection (teeth, tonsils, gums, large bowel), emphasis on rest, and a general building up program.

While there are other causes of rheumatoid arthritis — injury, cold and dampness, too much starch food — looking for infection is usually the first thought of physician and dentist.

In Annals of Rheumatic Diseases, London, Dr. R. W. Barter reports that an investigation of 100 cases of rheumatoid arthritis showed a definite family or familial tendency toward this disease as compared with 100 controls (individuals who did not have rheumatoid arthritis).

The percentage of the cases with rheumatoid arthritis was 5.3 in the families of patients and 2.3 in the families of controls when grandparents, parents, uncles, aunts, brothers and sisters were included. The percentage of cases was 11 in families of patients and only 4.6 in the families of controls when only parents, brothers and sisters were included.

From the above figures it was concluded that about one-third of patients with rheumatoid arthritis will have a family history of rheumatoid arthritis or acute rheumatism in two or more members (as many as 7 affected members were recorded in one family of 16); about one-third will give a history of one affected member; and the remaining one-third will have no relatives with these diseases.

The fact that rheumatoid arthritis may run in a family may serve as a warning to those with this family history, because they can help keep free of infection by visiting their physician and dentist at regular intervals, and also try their best to prevent other causes by avoiding starch foods, cold and dampness, and, so far as possible, avoiding injuries.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Inside reason why General Eisenhower sent his apologies to the U. S. troops which were kept standing for inspection in the Korean cold was because an overzealous brass hat had ordered the men to wear dress uniforms, not winter uniforms.

Dress uniforms have no ear flaps and, as a result of waiting two hours and fifteen minutes in bitter cold, a lot of ears and noses were frozen.

Naturally when the troops saw their visitors in nondress uniforms with ear flaps, while they wore dress uniforms, there was resentment.

Eisenhower hit the ceiling when he heard what had happened, sent his apologies for keeping the troops waiting.

In Korea With Ike

Modest Uncle Omar — When Charles E. Wilson was up at the front with ROK troops, he saw them shooting tracer bullets into the side of a hill. "What are tthose little red balls?" asked the new secretary of defense, who apparently has a lot to learn about defense but is learning the hard way. . . . Meeting his son, Maj. John Eisenhower, in Korea, Ike told him he celebrated his election as President by buying Mrs. John a new fur coat. . . . In Seoul, Ike slept in General Van Fleet's own bedroom, while Van Fleet slept on a cot in the laundry. Gen. Omar Bradley slept in the guest room which is on the street side. The Secret Service didn't consider it safe for Ike to sleep in a room on the street, but didn't seem to mind what happened to Uncle Omar. . . . Uncle Omar, incidentally, got pushed around more than any other VIP in the party—chiefly as a result of his own modesty, partly because some officers in Korea didn't recognize him. The unassuming man from Moberly, Mo., usually found himself looking over the shoulders of photographers. . . . Herb Brownell, the new attorney general, left his clothes in Seoul because of the hurried getaway.

Ike's Security—It was Jim Rowley, head of Ike's Secret Service squad, who vetoed the proposed parade through Seoul. . . . Despite the fact that President Rhee had arrested 20,000 people as security risks, Rowley learned that the Communists had smuggled about 200 agents into the capital. So he decreed: "No parade." . . . On the last day of Ike's visit, Dr. Syngman Rhee was frantic because Gen. Eisenhower had not returned Rhee's call. The president of Korea had called on Ike, but Ike had not called on him or posed for a photo with him. So Rhee kept sending the head of the Korean army to see Eisenhower, urging that he call on the Korean president. Finally Ike did so, and, on his last day, their pictures were published sitting together. . . . Though Rhee is strong with the Korean people he is not so strong with the politicians. For Ike to have left without posing for a picture would have meant loss of face for the president of Korea.

Taft and Ike

You can write it down that Bob Taft has decided to control his outbursts against Ike and will try to cooperate in the future.

Inside reason why he originally got so riled was because he came to the conclusion that Herb Brownell was kidding him about conferring on the new secretary of labor.

Brownell, who will be attorney general and who is now handling patronage, had been talking with Taft by phone about the two final cabinet appointments—labor and commerce. But when they were finally announced, Taft became convinced that they had been secretly selected a week beforehand and that the consultation with him was just kidding him along to keep him happy.

Taft's friends are also convinced that the Dewey forces around Eisenhower are deliberately trying to goad him into a fight with Ike in order to crowd Taft out of the Senate leadership. If Taft is Senate leader he is automatically invited to the White House every Monday for strategy conferences. If he isn't Senate leader he isn't invited. And some Dewey leaders think a lot of friction might thus be avoided.

Much of this came to Taft as an afterthought and is why he is dropping his Ike-feud. He knows he can't possibly win a battle with the President-elect at this time, and he isn't going to be goaded by the Deweyites into a fight.

Taft, therefore, will lay low, cooperate as far as conscience permits, try to dominate Senate legislation, and plant as many of his own men as possible inside the Eisenhower administration. This, he knows, can't be done by political warfare with Eisenhower.

So Bob will control his outbursts and go along with the new President.

Mexican Mix-Up

Some people are still laughing and some are still chewing nails over gringo politics at the inauguration of the new president of Mexico.

The hospitable Mexicans have a habit of inviting all sorts of people to their inauguration, regardless of government protocol. Thus Gen. Alberto Salinas, Mexican military attache sent a special plane for Gen. Harry Vaughan, aide to the President, for Gen. C. J. Mara, aide to Vaughan, and Gen. Wallace Graham, doctor to the President. They weren't picked as delegates by the State Department, but the Mexicans brought them down anyway.

Likewise Mexico invited the new Veep-elect, Senator Nixon. However, Nixon was not an official delegate, so he telephoned Assistant Secretary of State Ed Miller, asking that he be officially appointed.

On top of this, the new secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, also called Miller asking that Nixon be appointed; while Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge called John Steelman at the White House, saying that it would be embarrassing to Nixon if he were not an official member of the U. S. delegation.

So Nixon was appointed.

However, arriving in Mexico, Nixon proceeded to give the American delegation, of which he was by that time an official member, a wide berth. He snubbed Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, head of the delegation, never phoned or even spoke to him.

Finally Brannan, in turn, declined to stand in the same receiving line at the American Embassy with Nixon.

However, the Mexican government gave Nixon four bodyguards and he had a good time seeing the sights.

The people who had the best time of all, however, were the Mexicans, watching the gringos snub each other.

The Most Inhuman Mothers in the World

Kalash women of India are not allowed to raise their own children. The offspring, as soon as born, are taken away and given to another family, completely unrelated by blood, to be brought up, since no child may be raised by its own parents. Once taken away, the child never returns and never recognizes its own parents, only its foster parents. The custom is known as Chir Mozh (Milk Marrow) and is the most inhuman in the world. The mother will eventually be compensated by getting someone else's baby to nurse and to raise.

HST Suddenly Comes to Realize MacArthur Has Information About War in Korea

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 11—President Truman has suddenly discovered that General MacArthur knows something about the war in the Far East which might be helpful to the American people. For many months—in fact, since April, 1951—General MacArthur has been on inactive duty and available to anybody in the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff or the White House for consultation. But he was never asked for his opinions. Having volunteered a few ideas to Mr. Truman early in 1951 which set off a chain of events that resulted in summary dismissal from his post, the former Far Eastern commander has maintained a discreet silence ever since.

Now, with the prospect of a new President in the White House, Gen. MacArthur volunteered publicly that he had a solution for the Far Eastern problem, and promptly President-elect Eisenhower said he was interested and would want any ideas he could get.

The contrast between the Eisenhower alertness to gather information from any competent source and Mr. Truman's long-time snub of the former Far Eastern commander is dramatized still further by the Truman statement now that, if Gen. MacArthur has any solution, he should send it at once to the White House.

Since Mr. Truman is still President, he could command Gen. MacArthur to submit a memorandum, but it is not likely that this will be necessary, for, if the White House wants information from Gen. MacArthur, he probably would be glad to sit down with the joint chiefs and give them his ideas. This subject isn't anything that can be set down completely on paper but requires lengthy conferences.

It is significant that Gen. MacArthur speaks of the changed conditions in Korea, and it is also to be noted that Gen. Eisenhower, in one of his messages to the former Far Eastern commander this week, spoke of the necessity of making a plan that would bring peace — both men rather refuted any impression of an enlarged war. Acutally Gen. MacArthur's proposals have been associated heretofore in the minds of his critics here and abroad with an all-out offensive. An examination of his proposals, as revealed to Congress and its joint investigating committee, will show that Gen. MacArthur favored:

First, a naval blockade of the China coast so as to stop the smuggling of strategic materials into Communist areas. With this was to be applied an intensification of the whole economic embargo.

Second, the use of Chinese Nationalist troops to raid the mainland, but without the ordering of any American troops to assist in any such mainland invasion.

Third, the removal of restrictions on air reconnaissance of bases in Manchuria and along the China coast if planes from that area continued their attacks in Korean territory.

While there were other MacArthur recommendations in addition, it is doubtful whether his plan today calls for any enlarged operations on the Korean peninsula. It could, however, involve attacks by amphibious landings or raids behind the Communist lines, and it could involve exerting pressure on the China mainland so as to cause the Communist Chinese to withdraw troops from Korea and thus compel a truce. But, whatever the plan is, the public isn't likely to know much about it for a while.

Gen. Eisenhower has great respect for Gen. MacArthur's military ability. These two men have had unprecedented responsibility in wartime and since. They talk the same language—the language of orderly and cautious military strategy. Neither one would embark on a reckless adventure, though each would not be averse to a calculated risk in a normal military operation.

What makes the whole problem complicated is the fact that Gen. Eisenhower, who after inauguration will have full responsibility so far as the United States is concerned, does not have control of the policies of our allies in Europe. They must agree to any new plans or proposals, and that's one of the frustrations that have produced the Korean stalemate. When twelve governments have to be consulted on each move, it means debates and ultimately compromises that weaken the proposal. In wartime the commander-in-chief of allied forces has a wide discretionary authority. If some such setup can be developed now—so that Russia will know that Gen. Mark Clark, for instance, subject only to the commands of the joint chiefs of staff here, has full authority to evolve a plan and put it into effect—it may prove a clincher in forcing an early truce.

Apart from the military aspects, the Eisenhower-MacArthur meeting has some political overtones. Many followers of MacArthur felt during the campaign that he should have been called on by Gen. Eisenhower, while some of the followers of Ike felt it was the other way around and that MacArthur, since he was keynoter of the Republican convention, should have offered his services for the political campaign. The forthcoming meeting between the two military leaders will wash out much of this coolness and bring about a better relationship not only between the generals but between factions inside the Republican party. It was a wise procedure on the part of both men.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

In the summer of 1948, David Dubinsky, the perpetual president-dictator of the Garment Workers' Union, went back to Europe in luxury aboard the Queen Mary, with his "secretary of state," to establish his political empire. Dubinsky came here 50 years ago from Russian Poland, telling a vague, terrible story of brutal treatment under the Czar. Under Franklin D. Roosevelt, he had amassed a tremendous political fund in the Garment Workers' treasury. Now, with the blessing of Harry S. Truman, he was returning to the Old World to impose his autocratic will on all Europe this side of the iron curtain. He still speaks the American language with a Russian accent. Nevertheless he was the accredited political agent of the American government.

Dubinsky had $50,000 of the union's money on him. He also had a blank check on the American "Intelligence" Organization which has a budget of hundreds of millions and doesn't account for its spendings. In 1947, the year before this political foray, Dubinsky's national union treasury wrung $13,000,000 from his subjects, excluding millions more in sick and death benefits and employers' contributions to the "Welfare" Fund. During the war, Dubinsky had spent money at will in an independent spying service which he described as "underground" work. He never gave an accounting of this money or the activity.

Dubinsky's secretary of state on this invasion of Europe was Jay Lovestone, a confirmed, inveterate Communist. Lovestone is still the political chief of the so-called International Confederation of Free Trade Unions and still a communist. Lovestone did additional duty as official idolator, flattering his Leader in articles cabled back to "Justice" the official organ of the Garment Workers' Union.

Dubinsky's name tops the masthead in "Justice." All issues contain three or more photographs of The Leader and fewer pictures of Luigi Antonini, the subduce, in charge of the Italian-American Branch. Their subjects are forced to pay for this Hitlerism adulation. The cost of publishing "Justice" is included in their dues. If they fall delinquent they are thrown out. So they have to subsidize "Justice" with its furious hate campaigns against Americans who defend the Constitution.

The issue of "Justice" for July 15, 1948, announcing the sailing, identified Lovestone as "director of the International Relations Department" of the Garment Workers and "director" of the Free Trade Union committee of the AF of L.

Today, Lovestone's title of Dubinsky's "secretary of state" is acknowledged in the State Department, the central intelligence agency under General Beedle Smith, in the headquarters of the high commission in Germany and in Allied Headquarters in France. And Lovestone is still on the record as a communist. His brand of communism is actually Trotsky communism as opposed to Stalin's Muscovite version. Lovestone claims his communism is the original and genuine.

Irving Brown, a disciple of Lovestone, was quietly employed in Dubinsky's New York union headquarters to teach his beliefs to Dubinsky's subjects. His belief in communism has been boldly set forth. The Lovestone-Brown program calls for the slaughter of the American cops and civil defense forces by armed "workers." Lovestone and Dubinsky later put him in charge of their empire overseas with the title of Lovestone's "ambassador."

The lead story in the Aug. 15, 1948 issue of "Justice" reported

Dr. W. C. Feldman Is Cited in Korea

DR. W. C. FELDMAN

Dr. William C. Feldman of Kingston and the 125th Medical Detachment of the 163rd Medical Battalion, he commanded as captain, have been cited for exceptionally meritorius conduct in performance of outstanding service in Korea, according to an announcement from 8th Army headquarters.

The citation was awarded by direction of the Secretary of the Army for accomplishments that prevented a serious smallpox epidemic in a Korean town, and for delivering medical supplied by raft to military personnel isolated by collapse of a bridge during a flood.

Captain Feldman is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan L. Feldman, 110 Wall street, and brother of Dr. Abraham Feldman who is specializing at Brooklyn Jewish Hospital. He is a graduate of Kingston High School, 1943; University of Illinois and Chicago Medical School. He interned at Metropolitan Hospital, Welfare Island, New York and St. Peter's Hospital, Brooklyn. When he left for service in the army, Dr. Feldman was assistant resident in obstetrics at Margaret Hague Hospital, Jersey City.

Service covered by the citation lasted from August 1951 to October 1952. It says:

"Responsible for rendering medical aid to all United Nations forces within an area of approximately 2,000 square miles, this small detachment carried out its assignment in an exemplary manner. Exhibiting resourcefulness and ingenuity, its members established and operated a well equipped medical center, although almost all equipment had to be improvised from available materials.

"Traveling thousands of miles monthly, the detachment's personnel treated thousands of patients and inaugurated a highly effective preventive medicine program which did much to maintain the health of United Nations Personnel.

"In March 1952, when five cases of smallpox were reported among the population of a Korean town, the detachment acted with such swift precision that no further cases developed and a potential epidemic was averted.

"Later when the rain-swollen river destroyed a key bridge, isolating several units in the detachment's area of responsibility, the personnel of the detachment employed a makeshift raft to reach the units with necessary medical supplies.

"The 125th Medical Detachment, 163rd Medical Battalion displayed such outstanding devotion to duty in the performance of exceptionly difficult tasks as to set it apart from and above other units with similar missions.

"The initiative, technical skill, and determination of purpose displayed by the members of this detachment throughout this period reflect great credit on themselves and the military service of the United States."

The citation was signed by Brigadier General Paul D. Adams general chief of staff for General Van Fleet.

Pays Traffic Fines

New York, Dec. 11 (AP)—Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke, free in $50,000 bail pending trial on vice charges, yesterday paid $140 in traffic fines involving five summonses dating back to the summer of 1951. The 22-year-old margarine heir told chief city Magistrate John M. Murtagh he failed to answer the old summonses until he read about it in the papers. Jelke is scheduled to go to trial on the vice charges Jan. 5.

Port Free of Reds

Singapore (AP) — An American port official has praised Singapore authorities for keeping the colony's wharves free of Communist-dominated unions and also free from pilferage. Tom Maddox, traffic manager of the Los Angeles harbor department, on a tour of Far Eastern ports after attending the International Harbor and Port Conference at Kobe, Japan, blamed Red-dominated unions for waterfront troubles at U. S. west coast ports.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD S. THIBAUT, Jr.

Shirey Imprisoned Almost Two Years At Pyoktong Camp

Woodstock, Dec. 11—On next February 12 Capt. William Shirey, husband of the former Jane Cleveland of this village, will have been in a North Korean prison camp for two years.

According to letters which are now being received intermittently by Mrs. Shirey from her husband, Capt. Shirey, who is 29 years old, has remained, since his capture, in the same prison camp—Pyoktong Prison Camp No. 2, North Korea. Piecing together his story from fragmentary letters, Mrs. Shirey has learned that last year he was ill with pneumonia, but during the past summer was apparently in good health and had gained weight on a high starch diet of three meals a day composed mostly of rice.

Becomes Infantry Major

She has received word also that he has received his promotion to the rank of major in the infantry. She is convinced that his West Point training has had a great deal to do with his resistance to Communist propaganda to which the prisoners are continuously subjected. Their greatest pastime evidently is bridge and reading. He has written that he has read Tolstoy's War and Peace.

Recently Mrs. Shirey received a dozen roses, sent by Shirey's mother and father, of West Virginia, at his request upon the occasion of their wedding anniversary. Shirey himself wrote to his wife that he will "settle up this debt" with his family "as soon as I get out of here." She feels that this is a hopeful statement.

Anniversaries and birthdays are also of paramount interest to the prisoners, and Shirey continually refers to the birthdays of his family, his two small daughters, Elizabeth, age three, and Katherine, one. He writes that he has a lot of Christmases and birthdays to make up for.

New House Pleases

In an earlier letter referring to the new home which Mrs. Shirey completed according to plans they made together before his departure for Korea, he said: "The longer I am here, the happier I am that you went ahead with the house. It's nice to know that for the first time in our lives the monthly payments aren't going down the drain."

Reading material has been provided for the prisoners by the Chinese People's Committee for War and Peace and Against American Aggression. Mrs. Shirey said that "this group seems to have some of the functions of our American Red Cross. It carries on the extra-curricular things, and our letters come through this organization." Mrs. Shirey also understands that if the letters from the prisoners do not meet with the approval of the Committee, they are destroyed.

Every West Pointer, Mrs. Shirey said, treasures his heavy gold ring with its West Point seal. It was a source of extreme anguish to the prisoners possessing the rings when their captors removed them. To a West Pointer the rings stand for four years of hard work.

Although Major Shirey has written every month since he has been a captive, very few of his letters have been received by his family.

In addition to the letters Mrs. Shirey has an aerial photograph of the prison camp where her husband is living, taken by her brother, Lt. Charles Cleveland, sabre jet pilot who returned recently from Korea. The map reveals that the camp is located in rugged terrain.

Completes California Folk Singing Series

Woodstock, Dec. 11 — Sam Eskin, well-known folk singer and collector of folk music, writes from San Francisco that he has recently completed a series of programs there, and that he went on to spend Thanksgiving with Peter Hurd in New Mexico. Eskin plans to spend the winter in Mexico, returning to this country in time to sing at the National Folk Festival in April before he returns to his home here.

According to an account of Eskin's concert at the University of California November 17 in the Oakland (Calif.) Tribune, Eskin, "who travels throughout the country with his trailer, collecting folk songs," had rounded up five of the people from whom he had obtained many of the songs.

"Although they come from different parts of the country, they are all now living in this area, or near by. So Eskin was able to present a varied cross-section of American folk songs.

"Eskin, an informal master of ceremonies, opened with a song he had learned in New York from an English collector who attributed it to Chartist times. Then he introduced Haywire Mac, a disillusioningly respectable-looking 'hobo,' who sang the original as it was introduced to England by American minstrels. That shows how a song gets around. But some scholar yet may find that it was an English song before the minstrels got it.

"In this way, one thing led naturally into another. Eskin sang Springfield Mountain, and Lannis Sutton, a lanky, shy Oklahoman, contributed the same ballad as elaborated in his region into what verged on a translation into pig-Latin..

"Eskin and his guests gave their audience fascinating material in authentic form—folk songs as they are sung by the folk. 'Folk music alive' is what he called this program, and it was all of that."

Mrs. Gurland Names Committee Workers

Woodstock, Dec. 11—Mrs. Edward Gurland, chairman of the committee of mothers who are planning the assemblies at the Woodstock Elementary School for the first four grades, has announced that the following committee members will assist her: Mrs. George V. Kelley and Mrs. Helen Dendy.

Films will be shown at the assemblies among them pictures of the Hammond Mill Paper—how it is made from the tree to the final product; Robinson Caruso, a picture dealing with nature study; the New York State Thruway, as seen through the eyes of a 12-year-old child; and a documentary film produced by the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company.

For the entire school, a full length feature will be shown titled The Red Stallion.

Mrs. Gurland also has announced that Mrs. Edna Quick and Mrs. Marianne Mecklem will be in charge of the Christmas decorations for the school.

Woodstock, Dec. 11 — A one-man show of portrait paintings by Norbert Heermann, portrait artist, has opened at the Pioneer Bank, Loan and Savings Association in Troy. Included in the group of many Woodstock portraits are those of Jean Wilson, Jane Neher, Ruth Cohn and Edwina Henderson. There are also portraits of Thomas Costain, the writer, the late Elissa Landi, and Barbara Haver and Mrs. George Hutton of Kingston.

Bureau Holds Party

Woodstock, Dec. 11—The annual Christmas celebration took place at the regular meeting of the Woodstock unit of the Home Bureau Tuesday afternoon in the basement of the Dutch Reformed Church. There was carol singing and a surprise birthday cake in honor of Miss Anna Carolan, chairman, whose birthday is December 10. Mrs. Charles Duane was hostess for the party which was attended by 38 members.

Mrs. Lillian Compitello was a guest at the meeting and consulted with members concerning projects for the coming year. The projects will include toothbrush rugs, under the leadership of Mrs. Felicia Froot, and huck towel bags with Mrs. Daisy Montgomery as leader. The next meeting of the unit will be held Tuesday, Jan. 13.

Christmas Cheer Committee Needs Many Donations

The Christmas Cheer Committee today pressed for donations, regardless of the denomination in order to carry out this year's yule program, mainly to help needy children of the community.

"There'll be plenty of sad-eyed youngsters," said Mrs. Helen Mann, public relations chairman for the committee, "if more money is not forthcoming from the community."

Mrs. Mann said, "last year it took more than $2,000 to answer the letters of appeal sent to Santa Claus, and the demand for assistance hasn't decreased any."

Mrs. George W. Moore, general chairman of the committee, stressed that "a considerable amount of assistance is needed to furnish children of the community with wearable things, aside from favoring them with toys to add a note of joy to their little lives."

Mrs. Moore repeated that donations will be appreciated regardless of the amount. "We need everybody's cooperation," she said, "and the person with a big heart, but a limited purse is just as welcome to join our list of givers as anybody."

Donations may be sent to Mrs. Dale Swartzmiller, treasurer, Christmas Cheer committee, 139 Fair View avenue.

Brownell Has Plan

which no action has been taken.

He also will dig into pending anti-trust cases.

Brownell has told friends he intends to prosecute wherever there is any evidence of fraud.

Sees Prestige Low

He is said to feel that the office of attorney general has been permitted to sink in prestige and he intends to restore it to a new and higher level.

The Justice Department has about 31,000 employes. Most of them are civil service workers who will not be affected by the turnover.

Brownell has made only two appointments—William Rogers to be his deputy and J. Edgar Hoover to continue as FBI chief. His next major appointment will be a solicitor general—the man who will handle appeals to the Supreme Court.

Brownell, on returning to the mainland from Hawaii, will cover with justices of the Supreme Court and get their views on the type of man best suited for this work.

No change whatever is anticipated in the FBI. But it is said personnel changes can be expected in such agencies as the Bureau of Prisons, the Immigration Appeals Board, Parole Board, Alien Property Office, Claims, Customs and Administrative Offices.

Changes can be expected, too, in the department's three main divisions — Anti-Trust, Criminal and Tax.

But again, this source emphasized, some people will be asked to remain in their jobs.

Kogon Is Held For Grand Jury

Seymour Kogon, 42, of 68 Van Deusen street, who was arrested Dec. 2 on a warrant charging a violation of a section of the penal law dealing with the trading, swapping or exchanging of a firearm to an unlicensed person, was held for the grand jury after preliminary hearing in city court today.

Information charges that the trading, swapping or exchanging took place several months ago between Kogon and William R. Pagan, of Cottekill.

Kogon, who has been admitted to $250 bail, was represented by Attorney Charles Saccoman, and John Larkin appeared for the district attorney's office.

Authorities said an automatic pistol was involved. Kogon, police said, operates a surplus store.

HST Blasts . . .

to a conference on Korean strategy.

No Good Purpose

The President said he could not see that any good purpose would be served by such a conference, but he said either man would be welcome if he had something he wanted to discuss.

Then, referring to a statement Eisenhower made after completing his visit to Korea last week that he had no panacea or trick solution to ending the Korean War, Truman said that was a quotation from one of his own (Truman's) campaign speeches.

He said later that he thought Eisenhower's quoting of him was unintentional.

Asked about a report that the attorney general of Massachusetts had said Truman was urged to say during the recent campaign that he himself would go to Korea, the President said such a step was suggested.

Rejects Suggestion

But, he said, he rejected the suggestion deciding it would serve no good purpose and it would be just a piece of demagoguery.

And he added, with a touch of acid in his voice, that is just what it turned out to be.

Atty.-Gen. Francis E. Kelly of Massachusetts told the National Association of Attorneys General at Sea Island, Ga., earlier this week that Truman had rejected a Korean trip proposal during the campaign.

Reporters pressed Truman as to whether he considered Eisenhower's trip announcement a piece of demagoguery.

The President said the announcement was a piece of demagoguery—and of course Eisenhower had to make the trip after saying he would.

At that point, Roger Tubby, acting presidential press secretary, got up to talk briefly with Truman.

Truman then turned back to the reporters and said Tubby had suggested some good may come out of the Eisenhower trip.

If it does, Truman said, he will be the happiest man in the world.

The developments that followed MacArthur's announcement came swiftly.

Personal taxes in the United States took 3.4 cents of each consumer dollar in 1938-41 and 11.6 cents in 1952.

Map Plans for Ulster Polio Drive

Urgent Appeal Is Again Made for Big Polio Drive

Reporting that despite a big 1952 drive netting $41,000,000, the National Chapter of Infantile Paralysis would still face a $7,000,000 debt at the end of this year, Alvord W. Clements, state representative for Eastern New York, called for continued all-out efforts to make the 1953 March of Dimes campaign the best ever during a meeting with Ulster county workers Wednesday night at the court house.

Clements revealed that despite all of the recent publicity on possible polio vaccines the dread, crippling disease is still very much alive and that the U. S. faced an urgent need to procure the needed money in order to continue research and to treat present polio sufferers.

As for Ulster county alone, the state representative said, the county chapter, as of yesterday, had expended more money than was its share of the 1952 drive. The county's share of the 1952 campaign was $9,899 while a total net drive was $19,798.01 in Ulster.

"This is just one county out of many in your own state and of many throughout the country," Clements added. "Multiply these deficits throughout the U. S. and you can see why we'll have a $7,000,000 debt as of Dec. 31, 1952."

It was reported during Wednesday's meeting that during 1952 to date 42 polio patients have been assisted in addition to 28 new cases. The first polio case was reported Jan. 11 and the last one known to date was reported a week ago.

Kelly Is Chairman

Meeting with the state representative here were William A. Kelly, local attorney, who is serving this year as the Ulster County Chapter chairman; Addison Jones, campaign director; Mrs. William A. Kelly, secretary; Mrs. Joseph Roach, city school chairman; Harold Wilkins, chairman, town of Olive; Frank O'Neill, treasurer; Tuthill McDowell, chairman of the town of Wawarsing; Mrs. William E. Powers, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, Albert Kurdt, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and Robert M. Peebles of WKNY who is serving as radio chairman for the 1953 drive.

Early plans for the new campaign were formulated including the annual Parade of Bands at municipal auditorium and the innovation of an amateur show. The usual post-campaign ball also is scheduled to be held.

Mother's Drive Possible

Another new possibility to raise funds this year in Ulster county is the successful Mother's March on Polio. This has been tried in many other communities and according to reports always has been successful. Of last year's $41,000,000, $7,500,000 was raised through this medium.

Both Kelly and Jones, who will spearhead the 1953 drive, scheduled to start January 2 and extending through the month, voiced optimism last night that the campaign in the county and city will surpass other records.

"People are getting more and more concerned with polio, especially after this year's serious outbreak in the southwest," they said, "and with this in mind we look forward to a successful campaign.

The chapter chairman and campaign director pointed out in their appeal that in 1952 alone there were 4,000 cases of polio in just one week alone. "This is a big contrast to the years of 1944 and 1945 when there were a total number of cases of 4,000 for each year," they commented.

A resolutions committee including Jones, McDowell, U. Parker Decker and Myron Wells was named to send condolences from the county group to the family of Edward Hartney, town of Plattekill chairman, who died recently.

Howard Stephens has been named as treasurer for the 1953 drive, Jones said today. County chairman and others are requested to turn over all monies to Stephens at the State of New York Bank, Wall street.

State Distributes Fees

Albany, Dec. 11 (AP)—The state has distributed motor vehicle tax fees totaling $882,540 to the 57 counties outside New York city. Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern said yesterday that the money amounted to a quarter of the state fees collected from each county between July 1 and Sept. 30. The money must be used for county road construction and maintenance. New York city is excluded by law from receiving any of the fees. The current distribution brought the total divided among the 57 counties in the past 12 months to $14,145,236.

Will Fight Effort

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 11 (AP)—Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey said his state and Pennsylvania have agreed to fight New York city's effort to win the right to divert additional water from the upper Delaware river. Driscoll told a news conference there appears to be "substantial unanimity on the part of counsel for the two states" in opposing a court application by New York city. He said the city has gone into court to try to divert more water from the Delaware to serve its needs.

Heroin Is Seized

New York, Dec. 11 (AP) — Gustoms authorities at Idlewild Airport today seized five pounds of pure heroin valued at more than $50,000 from a Lebanese student who had just arrived from Geneva, Switzerland. They identified him as Akram Youssif Solh, 31, of Zokak El Blatt, Beirut, Lebanon, who said he was enrolled at Tulane University. He arrived here at 7 a. m. aboard a Trans World airliner. Inspector Robert E. O'Brien said he discovered the heroin in a false bottom of a traveleling bag. The compartment, about an inch deep, contained 35 cellophane bags. The authorities said powder in the bags was raw heroin. Sohl described himself in his immigration papers as a student registered at Tulane University and said this was his first trip to the United States.

Esopus Floods

points. Rain was still falling steadily, he said.

None Is Stranded

Up until 10:30 a. m., no one was reported stranded by rising waters, Cpl. Dunn said, but he and members of the Phoenicia Fire Department had been busy all night answering calls from residents along the creek who feared their land might become inundated.

The New York Department of Water Supply notified the Ulster County Sheriff's Office at 9:05 a. m. today that the upper Esopus had reached flood stage and was beginning to flow over the highway at Winne's Garage at Mt. Tremper.

The Ashokan reservoir at that time appeared capable of absorbing the excess drainage. Water department officials said the water was then two feet below the flashboards of the dividing wier and about 20 feet below the top of the spillway boards. The city has been drawing water from the Ashokan's west basin at the rate of 600 million gallons a day, it was reported, and the tunnel from Schoharie reservoir into the upper Esopus had been closed.

Central School Dismissed

The Onteora Central School was dismissed at 11 a. m. so that they could reach home before the roads were flooded. Spokesmen said that the holding of classes tomorrow would depend on the weather.

At 1 p. m. Deputy Sheriff Chester A. Wolven reported to the sheriff's office that water was coming up by the Woodstock Country Club but that the road was still usable.

At 1 p. m. the New York Water Department said there was still a "void" of 32 billion gallons in the Ashokan Reservoir, indicating that the reservoir could absorb that much water. There appeared no danger of immediate flooding in the lower Esopus, the department reported.

Barricades Placed

The New York State Highway Department reported that by noon today it had placed barricades and flares along flooded parts of Route 28 in an attempt to keep the road open to necessary traffic.

Shortly after noon it was reported to city police that the manhole cover near the center of the Broadway underpass had bubbled up but had subsided immediately.

Vauthier 'Good'

The condition of Alfred Vauthier of Route 32, Kingston, was reported as "good" at the Kingston Hospital this morning. He has been a patient at the hospital since Dec. 2, when he was injured in an automobile accident on Route 9W near Port Ewen, according to a state police report.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Eggs, butter and frying chickens were a little lower priced in most retail food stores this week. So were oranges, tangerines and a long list of fresh vegetables.

Only a handful of foods were higher. Snap beans and carrots were up slightly in many places as supplies tightened, reflecting adverse growing weather several weeks ago. Emperor grapes, pears and lemons edged higher.

Fryers were down 2 to 4 cents a pound in widespread areas, being a popular item for special pricing to attract customers. Also in this category in many independent markets and chain stores were beef rib and round roasts, lamb shoulder roasts, pork loin chops and roasts, several cuts of veal including legs, chops and shoulder roasts, beef liver, smoked picnic hams and several varieties of fresh and frozen fish.

Egg Prices Lower

Eggs dropped 2 to as much as 8 cents a dozen and in many places were selling at the lowest levels since last June. The authoritative New York market reporting firm of Urner-Barry Co. said the decline reflected continued high egg production resulting from a generally mild fall. Also, the usual post-Thanksgiving Day lull in consumer demand coincided with a slowdown in egg buying on the part of large hatcheries which don't want to have a lot of chicks coming out during the Christmas and New Year's holiday period, a spokesman said.

These factors, added to the fact that the season's new laying flocks were producing in volume earlier than usual this year, meant that dealers were temporarily overstocked with eggs.

Consumer egg buying has picked up in the past few days, however, and prices were expected to stabilize, the firm said.

Butter Has Dropped

Butter was off about 2 cents a pound, with output up sharply and a heavier-than-normal storage supply available. The Hotel Bar Butter Co. of New York noted that total consumption of butter and margarine combined today (about 16 pounds per capita) is less than the consumption of butter alone 10 years ago (17.2 pounds).

Tangerine prices were trimmed sharply as shipments from Florida reached the big-volume stage. Good supplies of navel and other types of oranges for the holidays also were assured, and grapefruit was a produce special in many places.

Good buys in vegetables in most cities included beets, broccoli, brussels sprouts, cabbage, several kinds of greens, escarole and endive. All were a little lower this week, as were artichokes, cauliflower, celery, cucumbers, onions, peppers and squash. Lettuce and tomatoes were offered in a wide range of quality, condition and price.

Wholesale food prices, as measured by the Dun & Bradstreet Food Index, scored their sharpest drop since early September and were at the lowest average level since two days after the beginning of the war in Korea. At $6.15 the index compared with $6.22 last week and $6.69 a year ago. The wholesale costs of a pound each of 31 general use foods are totaled to establish the index.

Few grains salt
20 toasted almond nut meats

Cream the cheese until soft and smooth. Slowly add Domino Confectioners XXXX Sugar, creaming thoroughly. You'll like Domino's easy-mixing quality. Melt chocolate over hot water; add to sugar mixture and blend well. Add vanilla and almond extracts and salt. Form ball of fudge around each almond. Chill in refrigerator. Yields about 20. If you prefer squares, add chopped almonds to mixture; spread fudge in 8" x 8" x 2" pan. Chill; cut into squares.

Vanilla Coconut Fudge
Using same recipe, omit chocolate and nut meats; substitute ½ cup shredded coconut for almond extract. Form fudge into 20 balls and roll in another ½ cup shredded coconut and then chill. To please your family all year 'round, use Domino Pure Cane Sugars for all your cooking and baking.

A challenge to women who would never dream of serving margarine

We bet you the price of a pound that your husband can't tell the difference between the new GOOD LUCK margarine and "you-know-what"

PUT A pat of GOOD LUCK on your husband's hot toast at breakfast tomorrow morning. Don't say a word. Just watch him out of the corner of your eye.

If your husband guesses that GOOD LUCK is margarine, we will repay you what you paid your grocer, plus postage. And no questions asked.

You Can't Tell the Difference

The inside story behind this new GOOD LUCK is absolutely fascinating.

We set out to produce a margarine which could hold its own with "you-know-what". A margarine which the most persnickety people would be happy to serve on their tables. A margarine which would be "indistinguishable".

It took us fourteen years of secret research to do this trick. But we did it all right.

The actual flavor of GOOD LUCK was achieved by adapting a remarkable technique discovered at a famous State College of Agriculture, in the farm belt.

Is GOOD LUCK as Nourishing as "You-Know-What"?

The latest medical evidence proves that the new GOOD LUCK is, if anything, more nourishing than "you-know-what".

For example, GOOD LUCK gives you a minimum of 15,000 U. S. P. units of Vitamin A in every golden pound—more than you get in thirty glasses of Grade A milk!

What's more, GOOD LUCK gives you these vitamins all the year round—not just in summer, when the grass happens to be green in the pastures.

This is terrifically important, because doctors have discovered that more than half of our teen-agers are not getting enough Vitamin A in their present diet. You mothers know this is very serious, because Vitamin A is essential for growth, for good skin, and for resisting infection.

Strong Boys—and Pretty Girls

Give your boys plenty of GOOD LUCK, and it will help make them big and strong.

Give it to your girls, and it will actually help them have pretty complexions—this is a scientific fact.

In addition to fortifying GOOD LUCK with Vitamin A, we also add thousands of gallons of fat-free milk which contains the valuable solids and minerals.

Save Up To 50¢ a Pound

You might expect to pay a fancy price for this glorious new table margarine, which is unconditionally guaranteed by Lever Brothers Company. But the amazing fact is that GOOD LUCK costs no more than old-fashioned oleo!

So treat yourself to the best, and still save as much as 50¢ a pound—enough to buy two extra quarts of milk for your family!

Tear out the valuable coupon below, and save an additional 10¢ on your first pound of GOOD LUCK. Better do it today!

Lever Brothers Company, 390 Park Ave., N.Y.

SAVE 10¢! Tear out this coupon!

This coupon worth 10¢ toward the purchase of a pound of new GOOD LUCK margarine!

FILL IN THIS COUPON and take it to your grocer. He will accept it as a 10¢ payment on purchase of a pound of new GOOD LUCK, the table margarine.

TO DEALERS: Our salesmen will redeem this coupon for 10¢ only from you directly or from an agent authorized in writing by Lever Brothers Company provided you and customer have complied with terms of this offer. Any sales tax must be paid by customer.

Kresge Remembers 45,000 Employes

The S. S. Kresge Company, from its main office in Detroit, announces that cash Christmas remembrances will be distributed to approximately 45,000 employes throughout the country, says Herbert C. Foster, manager of the Kresge store on Wall street.

Approximately 30 Kresge men and women in Kingston will participate in the plan.

This is the 32nd year the Kresge Company has paid cash remembrances to its employes at Christmas time, Foster said. This year 626 stores, as well as the company's officers and warehouse, will participate. The schedule covers full or part-time employes working on December 24 who were hired before December 1, and is arranged on the basis of length of service with the Kresge Company.

Morse Expects Defeat

Forest Grove, Ore., Dec. 11 (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon says he fully expects to be defeated in 1956 because he bolted the Republican party in the recent campaign. He declared, though, that he would not go down without a fight. "Let me say to the opposition, 'You're going to have to beat me,'" he told a capacity crowd of 300 at a town forum meeting here last night. Morse, who now calls himself an independent, is making his first tour of the state since the campaign.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Using New Ideas For Yule Trims

Many 4-H Club members throughout the county are injecting new ideas in Christmas decorating in their homes and various public places.

Among the activities reported was the furnishing of Christmas favors for the County Home at New Paltz by the Accord Lucky 4-H Club, under the leadership of Mrs. Grace Schoonmaker. Club members Jean and Janis Kelder also gave a demonstration at the Christmas meetings.

Ideas for decorating for the holiday season were exchanged at a county-wide training school held at the First Baptist Church in Kingston on Nov. 22. Charles McGuffy of Kerhonkson instructed in the making of wreathes and lapel pins, Mrs. Floyd Ellsworth of Port Ewen demonstrated how to make Christmas candles, and Mrs. Vernon Goetchius and her daughter, Miss Enid Goetchius, of Hurley, showed the group how to make Christmas centerpieces.

Considers U. S. Aid Debt

Tokyo, Dec. 11 (AP)—Vice Premier Taketora Ogata told the Upper House of Parliament today the government considers U. S. aid to Japan as a debt. In reply to a question Ogata said he hoped the Diet would not oppose repayment. He said U. S. aid helped stabilize Japanese economy.

Church to Burn Mortgage Sunday

Appropriate ceremonies have been scheduled by members of the Progressive Missionary Baptist Church for Sunday at 4 p. m., when the church mortgage papers will be burned.

The church, located at 8 Hone to 115 Abeel streets, was founded and organized with 13 members in 1941 and has since grown to a membership of 210, the Rev. L. A. Weaver, pastor, revealed today.

About $20,000 was expended by the local congregation in building the church home, remodeling of the parsonage and rent house, dining room and recreational hall, the pastor pointed out.

"The church feels it an honor and a privilege to serve and to contribute, both to the community and to the foreign fields," the Rev. Mr. Weaver said today in announcing Sunday's important ceremony.

Among the active groups of the church and their leaders are the deacon and trustee boards, E. Gilmore, chairman; junior and senior choirs, Maggie Jackson and Minnie Burris, pianists; John Burris and Mrs. Lucille Cody, presidents; the Junior Missionary Society, Joyce Neal, president; Senior Missionary Society, Mrs. Ida Gilmore, president; Sunday school, A. R. Harrison, superintendent; the BTU, Martin Williams, president; Pastor's Aid, Mrs. M. Miller, president; Progressive Young Women's Club, Mrs. Flossie Jackson, president; Gospel Chorus, Mrs. Cora Garvin, president; Mrs. L. Weaver, pianist; ushers, led by Mrs. Frances Bronson and the Laymen's League, A. R. Harrison.

Clerks of the church include Mrs. Mattie Harrison and Flossie Jackson. Calvin Dixon is the church treasurer.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

WALLKILL NEWS

Awards Are Given At Pack 76 Meeting

Wallkill, Dec. 11 — During a meeting of Wallkill's Cub Scout Pack 76 in the community room of the Wallkill National Bank Tuesday night awards were made, skits presented, and an announcement regarding the Cub's Christmas ornament sale was made.

To earn money to finance their activities the Cub Scouts will take orders for Christmas ornaments. Samples of these ornaments will be on display in the Town Clerk's office. Anyone desiring to place an order must do so before Dec. 15.

In correlation with the theme for November, the Faith of Our Fathers, Dens 1, 4, 3 and 6 presented brief skits. Members of Den 1 depicted the landing of the Pilgrims. Those who acted were David Kreiton, Jerry Holland, Charles Holland, Terry Terwilliger and Robert Adams. Boys of Den 3 and 6 each told what they are thankful for. Those who spoke included Ian VanderEssen, Charles Beatty, Jr., Peter Sowa, Peter VanderEssen, Phillip Paul, George Foster, Frank Herrelko, and Peter Burmeister. To emphasize that the forefathers came from many different nations, the cubs of Den 4 drew the flags of different nations. When each cub held up his flag, he told what nation it represented.

Ten Cub Scouts received honors. Raymond Martens was awarded a silver arrow and John Pape received a Lion Badge, a gold and two silver arrows. Wolf badges were awarded to Peter VanderEssen and Jack Vargo. Five boys received service stars, which are given to cubs who have been members of the pack for a year, and to those who have completed electives. They were Joseph Rogers, Gerald Holland, Charles Holland, Robert Brown, and Norman Hollenbeck. Peter Calukos, a new cub received his Bobcat pin and was welcomed into the pack.

Mrs. Peggy VanderEssen was awarded the den mother's appreciation certificate for her work in the cub scout organization. Den mother pins were received by Mrs. Dorothy Mizerak, Mrs. Charles W. Beatty, and Mrs. Harvey Weed. These women are den mothers for three new dens, which were formed recently.

R. J. Robinson, principal of Wallkill Central School, has taken a two week leave of absence and will return the middle of December to his position at the school. The leave has been necessary because of the illness of Mrs. Robinson. The couple left for Florida Thanksgiving Day.

Mrs. Harold H. Titus and children have returned home after a few days visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Austin L. Humphrey of Yonkers.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mechelke and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mechelke and their daughter, Elaine spent some time recently at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Vecas and their grandchildren of Tuckahoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Morris and sons, Jeffrey and Charles were guests Sunday at the home of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Playne, and his father, George Gledhill of Walden.

Mrs. Lincoln D. Relyea and son, Walter have arrived in Wallkill to make their home here while her husband is stationed in England. Mrs. Relyea is staying at this time with Mrs. James McLinden.

Mrs. Emma Brink has returned home after a few days visit with her son, Frank A. Smith of Old Tappan.

Navy Is Accused

Washington, Dec. 11 (AP)—House investigators today accused the navy of "inadequate and incompetent administration" of a Delaware shipyard and said the management of other naval installations may be no better. A House Expenditures Subcommittee said it found "open administrative conflict" among navy bureaus and a lack of liaison with other government agencies at the Naval Industrial Reserve Shipyard at Wilmington, Del. In one instance, the report to the House said, this cost the government nearly $10,000 a year — the profit a private company made merely by leasing navy-owned storage space to the General Services Administration for storing rubber.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Watch Finesses to Win Bridge Game

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The unnecessary finesse is one of the crimes most commonly committed by the losing bridge player. A good friend of mine, now happily an expert bridge player, took four unnecessary finesses in the very first bridge hand he ever played in his life. He lived to tell the tale, but he can still remember some of his partner's comments.

In today's hand, declarer took only one unnecessary finesse, but it was one too many. It cost him his game contract.

When West opened the seven of spades, South decided to play low from the dummy in the hope of winning a spade finesse sooner or later. East won with the queen of spades and promptly shifted to the jack of hearts. This was the beginning of the end for South.

Declarer won with the ace of hearts and entered dummy with the king of clubs in order to return a low diamond. The plan was to finesse the nine from his own hand and thus develop the suit without giving East the lead.

Unfortunately for declarer, East put up the jack of diamonds and subsequently won the third round of that suit. A heart continuation then gave the defenders three tricks in that suit to defeat the contract.

South should have seen the danger of a heart shift at the very first trick. The correct play is to win the first trick with the ace of spades and go right after the diamonds.

East gets one diamond trick and can take two spades, if he chooses to do so. Dummy's eight of spades will then provide a second stopper in the suit. No matter what East does, however, he cannot prevent declarer from winning four diamonds, three clubs, and two aces.

Now Even Better

Defense Bonds make a better Christmas gift this year than ever. Now Series E Defense Bonds pay a full 3% when held to maturity and mature earlier than before.

As Pegler Sees It

that Averell Harriman, then boss of a thing called the Office of European Economic Cooperation, had told the British socialist unioneers in London that America expected unions as well as governments to take part in the Marshall Plan. Thus the American taxpayers would foot the bill and the Lovestone Communists would operate the "plan." That is exactly what did happen. Paul G. Hoffman, now head of the Ford Foundation, was in the middle of it throughout his mysterious reign as administrator of the Marshall Plan.

In the same story in "Justice," Lovestone said Dubinsky announced that he had persuaded Truman to "recognize labor's right" to a voice and hand in the Marshall Plan.

Last week, in New York, Lovestone's "ambassador" Irving Brown, the phony hero of the barricades, convened a big jamjession of European unioneers who have been caught in the Lovestone scheme. Most of them are true anti-Communists, not realizing, perhaps, that Lovestone and Brown have hollered up a bloody Soviet revolution.

Children Now Big Problem

Naples (AP)—Some of the little boys who found friendly GIs "easy marks" during World War 2 have grown up to become Naples' biggest police headache. The youths, now in their late teens and early 20s, are still practicing the trades that hunger taught them during the war — chiefly pickpocketing and theft of automobiles, their parts and contents. Hunger still is the cause of some of the crime. Habit also plays a part. Despite an all-out drive by police, the problem will probably continue, says a Naples police official.

During its lifetime, the average female sardine lays about 100,000 eggs.

Four Are Indicted, Released in Bail

Miami, Fla., Dec. 11 (AP)—A woman civic leader and three alleged members of the Ku Klux Klan were at liberty in $1,000 bonds each today following federal grand jury indictments charging them with lying.

Mrs. Helen Russell, vice president of the Edison Center Civic Association, and these alleged Klansmen were indicted.

William Glenn Orwick, former officer of the John B. Gordon Klavern in suburban Hialeah; Harvey George De Rosier of Hialeah, and Arthur Freeze Udgreen of Miami.

All four were accused of lying in connection with an investigation of terrorism here against religious and racial groups.

The indictments were submitted Tuesday by the grand jury investigating the dynamiting of the Carver village Negro housing project, Roman Catholic churches and Jewish synagogues in Greater Miami last year.

Perjury Is Charged

The indictments charged Mrs. Russell with perjuring herself in sworn testimony before the grand jury; Orwick on two counts and Udgreen on one count of making false statements to FBI agents, and De Rosier on two counts of making false statements to the Post Office Department's loyalty board. De Rosier is a postal employe.

Maximum penalty upon conviction is five years in prison on each count.

Mrs. Russell was accused of denying under oath that she met and consulted with a committee of Klansmen to discuss "ways and means of preventing Negroes from moving into Carver Village."

The indictments described the Edison Center Civic Association as a "civic group . . . interested in preventing members of the Negro race from moving into a housing development located" in Edison Center.

FOR QUICK RESULTS ADVERTISE IN THE FREEMAN

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Harry Rigby, Jr. brought me three intertsting copies of a magazine called American Heritage. I understand it comes out quarterly. In the fall 1952 issue there is an excellent coverage of Kingston's 300th Anniversary. It is called Kingston's 300 Years and written by William J. Tyrrell, historian, New York State Dept. of Education. I know he came personally to Kingston and followed all the leads in contacting various people and places to write this article as I think he said, his first stop was at my place, because of the previous correspondence had with his office. The magazine has four excellent reproductions on glossy paper of such local scenes as Old Court House from an old print (courtesy Herbert V. Darrow). Kingston from Golden Hill, and another from Ulster County Atlas of 1875 were through courtesy of (The Freeman). There is also an illustration of John Vanderlyn, I take it, a self-portrait. The Senate House, also of course is shown. Mr. Tyrrell cleverly starts the history with 1652 and sandwiches most of the highlights of the 300 years up to and including Queen Juliana's visit last year, to Kingston.

This is the first time I have seen this magazine. I do not know if the Kingston City Library has it or not. There are such interesting stories about other localities and beginning of American industries in each issue that one can't help reading each one. To those who remember when the Brinckerhoff Ferry was sent off to Mystic Seaport Museum may be interested in the summer 1952 issue. On the front cover is a colorful clear photograph of the Mystic Seaport showing the old flag ships. The beach reminds me very much of old Kingston Point Beach, it has the same inland curve. And what do you think that particular photo shows according to explanation on photo, from which I quote: Air view of Mystic Seaport. In the foreground can be seen the ferryboat Brinckerhoff, one of the last of the walking-beam, sidewheel ferries. That same inlet could have been our own beach, and we could have had our own Mary Powell, resplendent in fresh paint on its many decks. It could have had as a companion, the replica of the Clermont. The famous little Skillypot could also be there, sturdy and neat like I remember her.

According to the article the Mystic Seaport is the second largest Marine Museum in the United States, 22 acres on the right bank of the Mystic river. The Brinckerhoff is very prominently mentioned through the article as one of the special exhibits. One line reads: "Long on Hudson river crossings, she often followed the Poughkeepsie races; children adore her and gaily romp over her decks." They saved and exhibit their old wooden Indians, we had some in town but they are gone now. Schuster's Tobacco store had one on the Strand, remember? The museum idea was given birth back in 1929, Charles K. Stillman, a surgeon, Carl C. Cutler, lawyer and Edward E. Bradley, industrialist, were pursuing their hobby, building ship models when they heard of builders' models being chopped for kindling wood and some valuable ship papers going to a junkyard in a nearby town. That evening the Marine Historical Assn. of Mystic was born and now has grow innto the second largest Marine Museum in this country.

The largest titanium mine in the world is located near Sanford Lake, N. Y.

Veterans May Get Canadian Money

American citizens who were prisoners of war while serving with the Canadian Armed Forces during World War 2 are eligible for certain war claims payments provided for and administered by the Canadian Government, according to an announcement made today by State Veteran Counselor Donald Moore and Director Howard Shurter of the local Veterans Service Agency.

They said that payments will be made for death, personal injury, and maltreatment, and in some instances survivors may be eligible for the benefits in case of the death of the prisoner of war.

Counselor Moore and Director Shurter said that maltreatment claims will be considered by the Canadian War Claims Commission according to the "theatre of war" in which the prisoner was held.

In respect to former prisoners of war of the Japanese, maltreatment awards at the rate of one dollar per day may be paid in a lump sum and such payments shall include any benefit for which the recipients may be eligible pursuant to Article 16 of the Treaty with Japan.

Former prisoners of war in the European theatre who were in direct custody of members of such organizations as the SS, SD, Gestapo and Leadership Corps, and who were held 14 days or more, will be awarded one dollar per day for each day of custody, but should such custody have been less than 14 days any award on per diem basis shall be within the discretion of the War Claims Commission.

All other prisoners of war claiming maltreatment will be required to substantiate their claims.

Further information may be had by visiting the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, 32 Main street, on any of the branch offices in Ellenville, Highland, Kerhonkson and Saugerties.

Policeman Reports Automobile Tracks

New York, Dec. 11 (AP)—A West Babylon, L. I., policeman, testifying in a $2,500,000 accidental death claim case against the state, said yesterday that tracing the tracks of the accident automobile showed that it had passed through a hole at the side of a state highway before slamming into a bank of mailboxes.

Patrolman Jack Holmgren, who said he was the first policeman to arrive at the scene of the accident on August 16, 1950, in West Babylon, testified before Court of Claims Judge George Sylvester, sitting in the Bronx county building.

The action, believed to constitute the largest such claim made against the state in a case of accidental death, was brought by Mrs. Gaetano Tomasetti, of 1150 55th street, Brooklyn, mother of three children, whose husband, a contracting engineer, was killed in the accident.

Struck Hole in Dirt

Mrs. Tomasetti's attorney, Jerome Golenback, said Tomasetti's car struck the hole in a dirt shoulder about a foot-and-a-half from the pavement of Route 109, causing him to lose control, and then crashed into the mail boxes. A plank supporting the boxes tore through the windshield and decapitated Tomasetti.

Patrolman Holmgren said he examined the body after arriving on the scene and then traced the tracks of Tomasetti's automobile. The tire marks, he said, showed the vehicle passed through the hole and then struck the mail box support.

Clement W. Gerson, assistant district manager for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in the area in which the accident occurred, told the court he knew of the hole in the road shoulder and that he had driven into it himself at one time. Gerson also was called as a witness by Mr. Golenback.

The figure claimed from the state is based on what Tomasetti might have been expected to earn during a normal lifetime, the attorney said.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. James George, flower chairman, presented the outgoing officers with rosebud corsages. They included Mrs. Raymond DuBois, Miss Edna Dugan and Mrs. Myron Wells. The Ladies' Aid Society will hold its Christmas party at the church hall Thursday, Dec. 18. Dinner will be served at noon. In the afternoon a short skit will be given. Gifts will be exchanged.

Tension Warning Given

Kuala Lumpur (AP)—A member of the Malayan cabinet warned in a recent speech here that racial tension in this country is on the increase and if nothing is done to counter it, racial strife will result. Dato Onn bin Jaafar, member for home affairs, called on community leaders to work for the unity and goodwill of the people. Addressing Malayan graduate teachers, he reminded them of the 1946 Chinese-Malay clashes following the surrender of the Japanese. Chinese had attacked the Malays believing that they had facilitated the victory of the Japanese over the British.

'Butch' Tackles Problems Of Cold War as Commander

By PHILIP CLARKE

London, Dec. 10 (AP)—A motorist drove into a Washington D. C., service station one day last year and asked a man in greasy overalls to check his balky engine.

With an expert's touch the man replaced a faulty sparkplug and accepted 75 cents from the grateful motorist.

The man in overalls was Maj. Gen. Francis H. Griswold, United States Air Force, who had dropped in at the station to grease his own car.

Gen. Griswold, "Butch" to his closest friends, has always liked to do the job himself—whether it's tinkering with a car engine, piloting a plane or running the U. S. Third Air Force in Britain.

When Griswold was named commanding general of the Third last May it meant coming back to a land he knew in 1943 as chief of staff of the famed Eighth Fighter Command.

"In a hot war," says Griswold, "you know your enemy. You know who you're shooting at. It's tougher in a cold war. You don't see your enemy."

Hits It Head-On

But Griswold, a 48-year-old officer with 22 eventful years service in the air force, is tackling cold war problems of his command like he does all the other problems—head-on.

A blunt talking, ruggedly built man, Griswold doesn't like to make public speeches. But in two days recently he flew to 13 major bases under his command to lecture American airmen on the importance of Anglo-American relations.

He hadn't memorized a word, but he knew what he wanted to say to the young airmen lined up in formation.

"Most of you men are behaving well," he said, "and I'm proud of you. But a few, only a few of you are doing things you shouldn't do.

"That's liable to make news, the wrong kind of news.

"You all know we're in a kind of a war—a cold war. The communists would like nothing better than to turn the British against the Americans.

"We can't afford to let this happen.

"You know why we're over here and that we've got a job to do. I'm counting on all of you to use your common sense and keep out of any kind of trouble. That will mean we can do our job and do it well."

Makes Sense to Airmen

The general's straight talk made sense to the airmen. Some even broke regulations to give him a round of applause.

Griswold is no "paper general." When a problem pops up, he's likely to order his staff plane ready on 30 minutes' notice for a quick trip to see for himself.

He arrives early and stays late at his neat-as-a-pin office at Third Air Force Headquarters at South Ruislip, 12 miles west of London. He has a big job—responsibility for the 45,000 men and their 15,000 dependents, 28 installations and the secret hundreds of planes that make up the Third Air Force today.

Griswold was born Nov. 5, 1904, in Erie, Pa. After attending public schools there, he entered Mercersburg Acadamy, Mercersburg, Pa.

He later attended Columbia University in New York and Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio, where he was a classmate of Gen. Curtis Lemay, now chief of the Air Force Strategic Bombing Command. Both Griswold and Lemay joined the air force before finishing at Ohio State. But they got diplomas later, anyway.

Griswold got his in 1943—15 years after he was due to graduate—with a letter from the University saying that the general had probably learned by now all he ever would have learned in the classrooms.

He was a colonel when he was transferred to England in 1943 as chief of staff of the Eighth Fighter Command.

Griswold made brigadier general in 1944, but it didn't stop him from slipping off—unofficially—on ten fighter missions over Germany. He was transferred to the Far East in July, 1945, as commanding general of the island air command at Ie Shima.

He won seven decorations during the war, including the Distinguished Service Medal, Legion of Honor and Croix De Guerre.

He has a record of 7,000 hours of flying without a single scratch.

After the war, Griswold served with air force headquarters in the Pentagon except for a two-year period as commander of the 20th Air Force in the Marianna Islands in the Pacific. He was on the Defense Department's munitions board in 1952 when he was tapped for the Third Air Force Command.

Griswold's ambition is to make the Third the air force's proudest outfit.

"The Third is short on history," says Griswold, "but it's a real fighting force already and getting tougher all the time."

Church on Calendars

The Savings and Loan Association of Kingston, which for the past three years has featured local pictures on its calendars, has a photograph of the Old Dutch Church building on its 1953 calendar. The picture also shows a portion of the churchyard when the tulips were in bloom. Subjects of past calendars issued by the association include Perrine's Bridge in Rosendale, the Senate House, and the stone aqueduct at High Falls.

Dunker's Delight

Holiday snacks can be livened up by dipping them into this delicious dunk sauce: Mix 1 cup of mayonnaise, two teaspoons Tarragon vinegar, dash of pepper, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon ground thyme, one-fourth teaspoon curry powder, one-half small onion, two chives to taste. The onion and chives should be blended first, then remaining ingredients should be added to liquifier.

Case Is Rested

New York, Dec. 11 (AP)—The government today rested its case, begun Oct. 27, against former Army Sergeant John David Provoo who is charged with treason for assisting his Japanese captors during the war. The major government contention is that Provoo betrayed Army Capt. Burton C. Thomson to his death before Japanese prison camp executioners. Provoo's defense is expected to center on the contention that Provoo was tried and acquitted for the same crime in 1945 and that this trial puts him in double jeopardy, forbidden by the Constitution.

Soap Companies Sued

Washington, Dec. 11 (AP)—The government today sued to break up the nation's three leading soapmakers into a group of smaller competing companies. The antitrust suit was filed in the Federal District Court at Newark, N. J. Attorney General McGranery announced the action here. It was directed against Procter and Gamble Co., Cincinnati, O.; the Colgate-Palmolive Peet Co., Jersey City; and Lever Brothers Co., New York. The complaint also named as a defendant the Association of American Soap and Glycerine Producers Inc., of New York city, a trade association. It was accused of assisting the three big soap firms "in achieving and maintaining their restraints and monopolization."

38 Are Arrested

Rabat, French Morocco, Dec. 11 (AP)—French authorities announced today that 26 Morroccan Nationalists and 12 French Communists have been arrested as an aftermath of bloody rioting in this North African protectorate. The Frenchmen were kicked out of the country and flown to France. The Moroccans, constituting practically the entire leadership of the Nationalist Istiqlal party, were interned somewhere in the desert in southern Morocco. Some of the leaders were in New York, attending sessions of the UN Assembly considering the Tunisian and Moroccan problems.

Says Trees Grow Faster

London, Dec. 11 (AP)—Trees grow three times faster in far off Kazakhastan, Moscow radio told the world today. A report from Central Asia said a member of the staff of the Kazakh Agricultural Institute has evolved a new method to speed up the growth of young trees. The broadcast said he uses extracts of the young tissues of the trees themselves as stimulators. Oak, willow and maple trees have undergone the hastening process to date, with fruit bushes next, the radio said.

Three Men Are Killed

New York, Dec. 11 (AP)—Three men were fatally injured and two others suffered burns in the explosion of a steam condensation tank aboard the LST-EWT (landing ship, tank) of the Military Sea Transportation Service in a Brooklyn dry dock yesterday. The dead, all civilian employes of M.S.T.S., were Hugo von Hacht, 54, of Brooklyn; Leland Groskrist, 24, of East Hartford, Conn., and Walter Kegel, 26, of Queens. Two men who ran into the steam-filled room to try to rescue the three were William Parker, 29, of Brooklyn, and John Hansson, 38, of Baltimore.

Gasoline Spills, Endangers Truckee

Truckee, Calif., Dec. 11 (AP)—The menace of a conflagration kept this mountain town in fearful suspense early today after 7,000 gallons of gasoline spilled down a quarter mile of the main street.

All traffic on U. S. Highway 40 was stopped for two hours for fear a match or cigarette from a car might touch off a terrible fire.

A large eastbound tanker truck overturned shortly before midnight and spilled its inflammable cargo. The driver had swerved to avoid a collision with another tanker.

The U. S. Forest Service, California Highway Patrol and Truckee Fire Department teamed to wash the gasoline off the main street — U. S. Highway 40.

Truckee has a population of 1,025—is at the foot of Donner Pass, about 35 miles west of Reno.

Cab Operators To Boost Fares

A group of local taxi operators announced today they had agreed to increase cab fare effective after midnight Dec. 15.

The new fare, in the city, they said, will be 75 cents for one or two persons and 25 cents for each additional person. The present fare is 50 cents straight.

The cabmen stressed that this is the first fare increase in 20 years and is brought on by increased costs of operation and other expenses.

Some drivers, they said, have worked 15 to 20 years at $30-a-week salaries, and it is felt now they are entitled to more because of higher living costs.

A higher fare is also a necessity today, they said, because of increased insurance rates, taxes, and equipment costs.

Those agreeing to the fare raise are Colonial Cab, Letus, Perry, Roosa and Schultz taxi services.

Prisoner Is 'Comfortable'

New York, Dec. 11 (AP)—A midwest desperado, shot and beaten in an Eighth avenue running gun battle in which six others were wounded, rested "comfortably" today in the prison ward of Bellevue Hospital. The prisoner, Clarence O. Sims, 37, Negro holdup man from Cleveland, was shot in the head and hand by a hero policeman at the end of the early morning pistol fight yesterday. When he showed further fight, he was beaten with gun butts by converging cops and suffered a head injury and a broken jaw.

Eisenhower Is Due

* * * that plan should be presented at once to the President." He did not name MacArthur, but his press secretary Roger Tubby said there was no question that the general was meant.

Last Friday MacArthur hinted to the National Association of Manufacturers he had a new plan for solving the Korean puzzle.

In a message exchange, Eisenhower and MacArthur agreed to meet to discuss it.

On hand to meet Eisenhower at Pearl Harbor will be defense secretary-elect Charles E. Wilson, who will report on his military conferences in Honolulu with Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, navy commander in the Pacific.

An earlier plan to have Wilson fly to the Helena by helicopter was canceled.

A source close to the President-elect said no time or place had been fixed for the meeting with MacArthur, but it probably would be at Eisenhower's Commodore Hotel Headquarters or his Morningside Heights residence in New York.

Rules Newspapers May Shun Items

Tulsa, Okla., Dec. 11 (AP)—Ruling that a newspaper has the right to refuse to publish any item, District Judge Elmer Adams yesterday dismissed an Oklahoma county judge's $10,000 suit against the Tulsa Daily World because it did not print his letter to the editor.

But the plaintiff, Judge Baker Wall of Sallisaw, declared he would appeal to Oklahoma's Supreme Court and "fight for this principle to the highest court."

He had claimed "deep humiliation" because the World did not carry prior to last Oct. 23 a letter he had addressed to its "Voice of a Free People" column, supporting Adlai Stevenson, Democratic candidate for President, and defending President Truman's policies.

Wall explained he was "hurt" by the omission of his letter because he had told friends and neighbors to look for it in the paper.

Didn't Single Him Out

The World, which backed the Republican national ticket during the campaign, printed Wall's letter on that date in its story about the judge's suit. It explained it did not purposely fail to print Wall's letter, that it had received many and had to make selections.

Adams ruled the only issue in the case was whether a newspaper could be forced to print anything, then commented:

"I don't believe in any form of regulation of the press, whether they agree with me or not.

"I think they follow their own ideas of fairness. Your ideas, Judge Wall, in the heat of a political campaign, might be entirely different. But if someone is to decide what is and is not fair, that could be done only by a dictator, and we don't have dictators in this country."

applications at the next council meeting.

The zoning law amendments proposed by Attorney Avis, as a zoning board member, would provide for a residential district to be known as "A," would deal with trailers or trailer camps in residential areas, would avoid spot zoning, and provide for other zoning changes.

These have been previously mentioned in this newspaper.

To Protect Home Values

Of the Roosevelt Park sector, the proposed amendment says specifically: "In order to preserve the realty values of residential property in the Roosevelt Park area, the zoning board hereby petitions the Common Council to create a grade A Residential area which shall take in the boundaries of Manor avenue, and along Albany avenue to the city line, and westerly to the city line. This area to be preserved as a single dwelling district."

And in order to avoid spot zoning, it said, it was the board's opinion that Albany avenue from Roosevelt avenue to the city line should be declared a business district "with limitations that property abutting the residential streets shall preserve its residential character by limiting the use of entrance to any business on a residential street, unless the structure is two stories or more requiring entrance to the building."

A section pertaining to certificates of occupancy and dealing with "junk yards, bag cleaning industry, etc.," would propose that permission from the zoning board be required before operation is allowed.

Many Streams Flooded

New York, Dec. 11 (AP)—Wind driven rain drenched a large section of the eastern states today, flooding streams and highways and forcing some schools to close. The Weather Bureau said the heavy fall extended as far south as Salisbury, Md., and north into Vermont and New Hampshire. West of the rainy area snow was falling in the uppermost portions of Ohio and Indiana. The storm, following a night of unseasonably high temperatures, blackened the sky. At times during the morning Christmas shoppers in New York city found the streets as dark as night.

Baptist Guild Serves Novel Supper Tonight

To raise funds for the Church World Service sponsored by the National Council of Churches, the Youth Fellowship of the First Baptist Church on Albany avenue at Broadway, will serve a "sacrifice supper" tonight starting at 6 o'clock in the church hall. The public is invited.

The novel-type supper meal is described by those in charge, as containing calories equivalent to the number consumed by world refugees. Although nominal, the cost of the supper tickets has not been reduced.

Following the supper, a motion picture film entitled Fujita, War Orphan of Japan, and portraying post-war Japan, will be shown.

Man Called Mentally Ill

Halifax, N. S., Dec. 11 (AP)—Capt. Adan Graetz, Israeli shipmaster who threatened to sink his vessel unless his father were given a post in Israel's cabinet, was landed here last night and taken to a hotel. Officials described him as "mentally ill." The 24-year-old captain was removed from the 5,686-ton freighter Abraham Graetz at the request of the vessel's owners and her agents here. Immigration officials said he would be "treated as a sick mariner."

Milk Deliveries To Bring $5.03

New York, Dec. 11 (AP)—November milk deliveries in the six-state New York milkshed will be paid for at a uniform price of $5.03 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts).

The price was announced yesterday by C. J. Blanford, market administrator for the New York milk marketing area.

The price announcement was made four days early, Blanford said, to permit handlers to make payments before Christmas to the 49,453 dairy farmers who delivered the milk to the 417 pool-approved plants in the milkshed.

The November price of $5.03 is slightly above the October price and $5 per hundredweight and below the November, 1951, price of $5.30 per hundredweight.

Blanford also announced that the producer butterfat differential for November had been set at six cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard.

"WOMAN OF THE WORLD"

To me a very surprising point of view is shown in this question: "Will you please tell me if there is anything derogatory in calling someone, 'a woman of the world'? This discussion came up the other afternoon at our bridge club when one of the members referred to a woman as 'a woman of the world.' Some of us thought the remark very complimentary while others thought it just the opposite. We would appreciate your commenting on this."

A woman of the world is generally someone who has had every social and educational advantage, and is obviously widely traveled. In other words, she is one who has the advantages of wide worldly knowledge, and has nothing to do with her character, which could be of the very finest, or not fine at all.

Clothes of Wedding Guest

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband's cousin is to be married in two weeks. The wedding will take place in the morning with a breakfast following at one of the hotels. I have a very pretty black velvet dress which I had intended to wear, but my husband's mother and sister have discouraged me about this and said it is bad luck to wear black at a wedding. Will you please give me your opinion of this?

Answer: A black velvet dress would be entirely appropriate because velvet is never worn in mourning.

Marking Linens

Dear Mrs. Post: I am having some linens monogrammed and am doubtful as to the correct initials to use. I have had a stepfather for the past fifteen years and, although he has not legally adopted me, I have been using his name. In fact, no one here knows my real name. Under the circumstances, shall I use the initial of my own real name?

Answer: My advice is that you use the initial of the name by which you are best known.

What are the essentials for a hope chest? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but a list of linens and personal clothes for the trousseau is included in leaflet E-5. Cerasaros, Village Rest And Aces Triumph

Cerasaro Brothers, Village Rest of Port Ewen and Newkirk Aces registered victories in Wednesday night's big triple-header basketball menu of the YMCA "B" Division.

Cerasaros turned back Waterous Lumber by 53-44; the Village Rest decisioned the Kingston Patrolmen's Association cagers, 52-45 and the Newkirk Aces squirmed through a 44 to 43 victory over Central Lunch.

Individual scoring leader of the night was Tom Rundle, center of the Lunchmen, who bucketed 21 points in a losing cause.

Cerasaros had a tough struggle with the Lumbermen for the first three periods and didn't breathe easy until their 18-point production in the final quarter.

The winners opened with a 17-14 edge at the first buzzer and still led by three points, 26-23, at the half. The Lumbermen closed the gap to a mere single point in the third round, outscoring Cerasaros by 11-9 as the latter club held a 35-34 edge.

Schrader, Waterous High

Jack Schrader, Joe Gardiner and Jack Graney sparked the attack for the winners with 19, 16 and 12 points respectively. Bill Waterous of the losers scored 19 while Joe Hilton followed with 11.

The Village Rest-KPA tilt was another close affair during the first two quarters.

Village Rest vaulted to a three point edge of 15-12 at the first quarter but saw the lead vanish as the KPA quintet took over by 27-25 at the halftime buzzer. The winners forged ahead in the third round with 11 points and 16 more in the final session to "ice" the decision.

Jimmy Amato and Vince Van Bramer were the big guns for Village Rest with 14 and 13 markers while John Letus pushed in 12 for the KPA.

It looked like an easy night for the Newkirk Aces as they pulled away to a fast 14-3 lead in the first quarter but then the scene changed, but good.

Lunchmen Rally

The Lunchmen, finding themselves after that poor opening stanza, closed the gap to 24-16 at the half and with a sharp scoring attack, netted 19 points, held a 35 to 27 lead going into the final period of play.

The Aces, however, rallied and scored 17 points to pull out the win by 44-43.

Dick Gollnick led the winners with 12 points while Rundle, the big scorer of the night, had 21 for the Centrals. George Hooker followed with 16.

KHSAA Banquet Is Scheduled Tonight

About 500 persons are expected to be on hand tonight to hear Walter "Red" Barber, famous Voice of the Brooklyn Dodgers, address the annual Kingston High School AA banquet at the high school cafeteria.

Presentation of the DUSO League golf trophy and the Section 9 cross country cup to the local school also will feature the affair.

This will be Barber's second visit to the annual KHS banquet programs. He scored a big hit in his initial appearance.

Tonight's banquet will start at 6 o'clock.

Predicts Tulane Win

New Orleans, Dec. 11 (AP)—Kansas coach Forrest (Phog) Allen predicted defeat for his NCAA basketball champions when they meet Tulane tonight and said, "We'll probably get our legs run off." Tonight's game will be the first outing against collegiate competition for the Kansans since they won the NCAA title. The Green Wave has three early season victories over minor opposition. Allen moaned over the loss of his All-America center, Clyde Lovellette, and three other members of his championship five. While not heavy in experience, Tulane will field a team of five lettermen.

Al Ciarrochu, Miami freshman fullback, carried the football only three times against Stetson but scored two touchdowns.

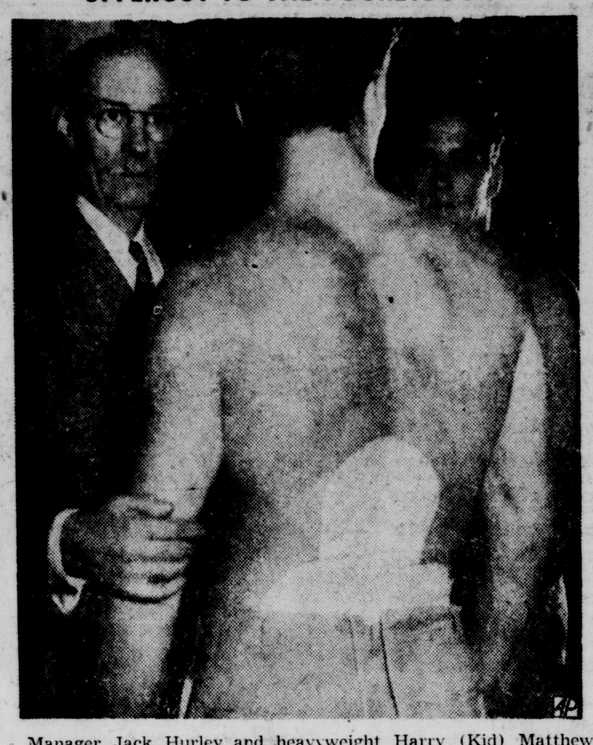
UPPERCUT TO THE POCKETBOOK



Manager Jack Hurley and heavyweight Harry (Kid) Matthews wear dejected expressions in London after a back injury suffered by Matthews in training resulted in his withdrawing from a fight scheduled for Dec. 10 with Johnny Williams, British heavyweight champion. Hurley said Matthews' ailing back cost them "one of the largest purses ever offered us."

Haney for Asking As Pirates' Pilot

Pittsburgh, Dec. 11 (AP)—Fred Haney, skipper of the highly successful Hollywood (Calif.) Stars of the Pacific Coast League, put it squarely up to General Manager Branch Rickey of the Pittsburgh Pirates today whether he will sign as Buc field manager.

After flying here from the west coast from a meeting with Branch Rickey, Haney was asked bluntly if he will sign with the last place Bucs. He declared:

"If Mr. Rickey wants me to do it, I may. It's up to him. I would do it for him because I feel I owe him an obligation for helping my Hollywood team."

Rickey invited Haney to his palatial suburban home for a 10 a. m. conference. Although Rickey has been hinting for weeks that he's tabbed Haney to succeed Bill Meyer, the Pirate executive said:

"There are several things dependent on the decision, the main one being if he wants to become the Pirate manager."

There has been considerable conjecture that Haney wants more than a one-year contract, the kind preferred by Rickey. However, Rickey declared:

"We have never reached the point of talking in terms of salary and length of contract. I am sure that we will have no trouble along that line."

Since Bill Meyer quit as manager of the Pirates at the end of the 1952 season Haney has been prominently mentioned for the job of trying to lead the Bucs out of the national League wilderness. Rickey has known Haney for years.

Davey, in Quick Win Over Pruden, Ready for Title

Cleveland, Dec. 11 (AP)—Chuck Davey, who fights like a champion and talks like the teacher he used to be, pronounced himself fit and ready today for his welterweight title bout.

The Michigan State graduate went through a mild preparatory workout last night in scoring a third round technical knockout over hopelessly outclassed Fitzie Pruden of Paterson, N. J.

Davey who holds a master's degree from Michigan State and is on leave of absence from the college's English department is tentatively set for a February title bout against welterweight champion Kid Gavilan in Chicago.

His nationally-televised victory over Pruden came so quickly the fans hardly had a chance to get settled well in their seats.

Davey weighed 150 to 149 for his opponent.

India Gains Split

Brisbane, Australia, Dec. 11 (AP)—India trotted out a really fine tennis player named Sumat Misra today in gaining an even break with the Italians in the opening singles matches of their Davis Cup interzone semi-final. Misra, a big fellow with a terrific service, blasted Rolando Del Bello off the court, 6-4, 6-4, 6-1, after Fausto Gardini had put the Italians off in front with a 6-1, 5-7, 6-5, 6-2 victory over Naresh Kumar.

Turner Bout Off

Philadelphia, Dec. 11 (AP)—Cut on the chin of welterweight fighter Gil Turner has resulted in postponement of his 10-round bout with Joe Miceli of New York until Dec. 22. The Philadelphia Arena battle was scheduled for next Monday night. Turner was injured in a sparring session Tuesday night.

Brandt Tallies 31 In Protestant Loop

Trinity Lutheran cagers, last year's champions, started off in quest of another championship in the Senior Protestant Church Basketball League Wednesday night with a convincing 81 to 28 opening victory over the Presbyterian quintet.

In the other half of the doubleheader at the MJM gym, the Progressive Baptists registered a 48-40 decision over Redeemer Lutheran.

Brandt Hits 31

Ron Brandt, center for Trinity Lutheran, was the big gun in his team's easy victory by scoring 31 points on 15 deuces and a foul conversion.

Dick Gollnick followed in close order with 20 markers.

Trinity held a 30-13 lead at the first half.

W. Henderson and R. Anderson each picked up 14 points to lead the Progressive Baptists to their opening night victory over Redeemer Lutheran. Earl Schoonmaker posted 14 for the losers while John Smith and Dick Gendreau followed with 10 apiece.

The Junior Protestant Church League will launch its 1952-53 schedule Saturday at the YMCA gym with a pair of games starting at 4 o'clock. Redeemer Lutheran will meet Fair Street Reformed and at 5 o'clock Trinity Lutheran will tangle with Immanuel Lutheran.

Seeks Title Bout

Los Angeles, Dec. 11 (AP)—A California boxing commission has announced the launching of a campaign to bring the Rocky Marciano-Joe Walcott heavyweight championship fight here. Commissioner Everett Sanders said today that President Jim Norris of the International Boxing Commission and Al Weill, Marciano's manager, have agreed to meet with him here in a few weeks to discuss the possibilities.

Former heavyweight king Jack Dempsey probably would promote the bout, said Sanders, predicting it would draw a gate of 1½ to two million dollars if staged in Memorial Coliseum.

FREEZER TIPS FOR BIRDS, WATERFOWL AND SMALL GAME

WRAP THE GIBLETS IN A SEPARATE SMALL PACKAGE. SEAL WITH TAPE AND PLACE WITHIN THE BODY CAVITY. THUS, SHOULD THEY SPOIL, THE BIRD OR GAME WON'T BE AFFECTED.

ALL BIRDS MUST BE PLUCKED, NOT SKINNED. SKINNED BIRDS DRY OUT FASTER. UNPLUCKED FEATHERS TRAP UNWANTED AIR IN STORED PACKAGE. BUT, SMALL GAME MUST BE SKINNED. DRAW OUT THE SPOILING INNARDS.

PLASTIC FREEZER BAGS ARE IDEAL TO PACK A WHOLE BIRD OR GAME. PRESS OUT ALL AIR OR USE A VACUUM CLEANER TUBE TO DRAW IT OUT. TWIST AND FOLD BAG TOP. SECURE WITH RUBBER BAND.

32 Keglers Begin All-Star Matches

Chicago, Dec. 11 (AP) — Thirty-two of the nation's top men and women bowlers start firing today for the national all-star individual championship.

Junie McMahon of Chicago and Fairlawn, N. J., is seeking his third title and his second straight in the round robin matches which continue until Sunday night. The men will roll 16 games daily compared to eight for the women.

Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., winner in the three previous all-star matches for women, is defending her 1951 crown against 15 top-ranking women keglers.

Both champions lost their special matches in which they competed while 160 men and 48 women battled through preliminary rounds.

Topping the finalists were Detroit keglers, Ed Lubanski with a 36-game total of 7,363 and Elvira Toepfer with 4,766 for 24 games. Lubanski ousted Bill Lillard of Chicago, the pace-setter since the bowling marathon started last Saturday, with two big six-game series yesterday of 1,249 and 1,215.

Yesterday's most spectacular shooting was by Joe Wilman of Berwyn, Ill. Wilman, 1945 champion, posted 1,311 and 1,220 for 6,260 and a leap from 35th to fifth place in the final 14. Wilman is the only former champion, along with McMahon, in the finals.

Detroit Aerial Ace Tops Offensive List

New York, Dec. 11 (AP)—If you want to lead the country's major college football players in total offense, don't tuck the pigskin under the arm and run—throw the ball.

That, at least, is the lesson taught by Ted Marchibroda of Detroit, who won the honor this fall with 1,813 yards, 1,637 by passing.

Furthermore, final statistics of the NCAA Service Bureau disclosed today that all of the top 10 places, and 17 of the first 20, went to aerial specialists. Nothing like it has happened before.

Behind the Detroit senior, a transfer from St. Bonaventure, were Zeke Bratkowski, Georgia, 1,774 yards; Tommy O'Connel, Illinois, 1,724; and Don Heinrich, Washington, 1,652.

No Big Favorite

Miami, Fla., Dec. 11 (AP)—The wide open scramble for the $10,000 Miami Open golf championship begins today over the 7,010-yard Miami Springs golf course with 145 pros and 21 amateurs competing. With defending champion Sam Snead in California making a motion picture, together with National Open Champion Julius Boros, there is no outstanding favorite. The record of 264 was set in 1949 by Fred Haas, Jr., of New Orleans, and Bob Hamilton of Evansville, Ind.

Two Sides Spar For Tribe Power

Cleveland, Dec. 11 (AP)—The struggle for power in the Cleveland Indians' front office broke into open warfare today. Both sides said they would win.

In the one camp: Ellis Ryan, the club's 48-year-old president, who startled those pressuring him to quit by reversing himself and announcing his intention to fight for the job he has held three years. Five directors are on his side. Ryan also is a director.

In the other faction: Six directors and most of the officers in the baseball club, led by Vice President George Medinger. They want Ryan removed as incompetent, and replaced by Medinger. They have asked for a showdown stockholders meeting a week from today to decide who should take over.

In a neutral corner: Hank Greenberg, general manager, he is not an officer but an employe. At this point his job seems safe, since he has two years remaining in his contract at $65,000 a year and both sides say they want him to stay.

Despirito Sweats Out Possible Suspension

Miami, Fla., Dec. 11 (AP)—Jockey Tony Despirito will know today whether he is to be suspended or if he can continue his sensational drive to tie or break the American record of 388 winners in a year.

Tropical Park stewards, who disqualified Despirito's mount for impeding another horse in yesterday's fourth race, will decide at a meeting whether to suspend the lanky 17-year-old Lawrence, Mass., rider.

The stewards did not indicate what their decision might be and Despirito remained on the anxious seat.

A suspension would just about wipe out any chances he might have of bringing in 388 winners to tie the mark set by Walter Miller in 1906 and equalled by Joe Culmone and Willie Shoemaker in 1950. Despirito has 370 winners.

Despirito was accused of impeding the chances of Prairie Kid, a 126-1 shot, when Braseda lugged in twice on the outside during the running of the six furlong fourth for two-year-olds.

Sports of the Day

(IN BRIEF)

(By The Associated Press)

San Francisco—Frankie Albert, star quarterback of the San Francisco 49ers and twice All-America with Stanford, announced he will retire from football after Sunday's game.

Tuscaloosa, Ala.—Harold (Red) Drew received a new two-year contract, with an increase in pay, as head football coach at the University of Alabama.

Miami—Tony Despirito, the nation's leading jockey rode his 370th winner but was disqualified in another winning ride at Tropical Park.

New York — Clarence (Biggie) Munn, who piloted Michigan State to an undefeated season and the top ranking in the nation, was named as "Coach of the Year."

'50 Club' Names Sass President

Frank Sass was elected president of the "50 Club" during the regular meeting this week at the club rooms, 97 Abeel street.

Harry Brandt was elected vice-presdent; Tom Coughlin, treasurer and corresponding secretary; and Peter Murphy, recording secretary.

The out-going officers were given a word of thanks for their duties. They were Ted Woods, president; Frank Martin, vice-president; Peter Murphy, secretary and Tom Coughlin, treasurer.

Plans for the annual banquet to be held in January and some long-range planning for the annual children's Field Day next July 4 were discussed.

New York—George Barton, veteran sports writer and president of the National Boxing Association, was named winner of the James J. Walker award for "long and meritorius service" by the New York Boxing Writers' Association.

Ulster Duck Hunters Get Extension Bonus

Albany, Dec. 11 (AP)—Upstate duck hunters will have an extra few days shooting beyond the normal Dec. 18 closing date, to make up for time lost when fire hazards forced closing of woodlands.

The extension in each county will equal the number of days of hunting lost there earlier, Conservation Commissioner Perry B. Duryea said yesterday.

The season was extended five days—through Dec. 23—in all but 15 eastern and Hudson valley counties. There an 8-day extension was granted to compensate for longer closing of the forests.

The Long Island duck season will close Dec. 18 as scheduled, Duryea said, because hunting lands there were not closed.

The 15 counties with the 8-day extension—through Dec. 26—are: Warren, Washington, Saratoga, Rensselaer, Schenectady, Albany, Greene, Columbia, Sullivan Ulster, Dutchess, Orange, Putnam, Rockland and Westchester.

Only time Man-of-War, famed race horse, lost in 21 starts was when Upset beat him in the Sanford Stakes, at Saratoga, Aug. 13, 1919.

TILLSON

Residents Cautioned By Tillson Firemen

Tillson, Dec. 11—A request to all residents of the Tillson Fire District to be extra careful about fires in the home during the coming holiday season was expressed by executives of the Tillson Volunteer Fire Company at a meeting Tuesday evening in the firehall.

The appointment of Raymond Wright as lieutenant was announced by the executive committee. Wright replaces J. J. Burke, Sr., who recently moved from the district. The fire police squad has been reorganized and strengthened. Signs, which can be seen by day or night, are to be supplied for use in stopping traffic at the intersections when the truck must have the right of way while going to the scene of a fire. One of the signs will be donated by the Modjeska Sign Studios of Kingston.

A resume of the past year's activities was given by President H. E. Harvey, and plans were formulated for the 1953 program. It was pointed out that the company will do all it can to provide training films, and a training course, for all interested volunteer firemen. Following the business session refreshments were served. Approximately 25 members attended the meeting.

To Hire New Teacher

Mildness Continues In East and South

(By The Associated Press)

The early December spell of mild weather appeared ended in the central part of the country today but mild weather continued in the east and most of the south.

Temperatures dropped below freezing through the Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes region. Readings were in the 20's and 30's, 10 to 20 degrees below yesterday's marks. In the east coast they were in the 40's to 60's.

A storm centered over New York state caused heavy amounts of rain to the south over the Middle Atlantic states. It also brought cold air down to the gulf on its west side and kept temperatures above seasonal levels to the east. It was 39 above in Birmingham, Ala., and Nashville, Tenn., early today, while it was 59 in New York and 58 in Syracuse.

Rain and drizzle hit areas early today from New York state southward to the Carolinas. Light snow fell over the Great Lakes region. Fair to partly cloudy skies prevailed over the rest of the country except for some cloudiness over the central Rockies.

Snow fell yesterday in the mountains from Utah to western Montana. An air force C-47 transport with a crew of five and one passenger vanished in a blinding snowstorm on a flight from Colorado Springs to Reno. It was last heard from over Lucin, Utah, just over the Nevada border.

Discusses Future TV

Robert M. Peebles, general manager of Radio Station WKNY, was the speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Men's Club of the Old First Dutch Church, held Wednesday night in Bethany Hall. Peebles reviewed the development of radio both nationally and locally and told of steps being taken to have a television channel assigned to Kingston for the possible future operation of a TV station here.

Father and Son Injured in Crash

George L. Gulnick, 25, and his father, Benjamin Gulnick, 59, of 31 Lindsley avenue, were injured Wednesday afternoon about 5:20 o'clock when the car driven by George L. Gulnick collided with a pole along Route 9W in Catskill when the driver misjudged the entrance to a garage, police said.

En route north during a heavy rain, the windshield wipers failed to work and the driver started to turn into a garage. Misjudging the distance the car went off the road and struck the pole. The car was damaged and Benjamin was treated at Greene County Memorial Hospital for a broken nose and a cut on the forehead and the driver for a cut on the forehead.

Police Captain Harry T. DuBois of the Catskill village police investigated.

Taipeh, Formosa, Dec. 11 (AP)—The control Yuan—watchdog agency of the Chinese Nationalist government—today censured the weatherman, charging he lost a typhoon. Arrow Bus Line Gets Increase in Its Fares

New York, Dec. 11 (Special)—The Public Service Commission yesterday granted an increase of fares to Arrow Bus Line, which operates routes between Kingston and New Paltz and between New Paltz and Poughkeepsie.

The new rates are to go into effect, under the ruling, Dec. 15.

The provision is that the 10-cent local fare within New Paltz is to remain unchanged but the one-way through fares are to go up five cents. Twelve-trip commutation and student tickets, based on 60 and 50 per cent respectively of 12 times the one-way fares, will be increased by 3.0 and 2.5 cents per ride respectively. There are seven fare zones on the Kingston-New Paltz route and eight on the New Paltz-Poughkeepsie route.

The increase, it is estimated, will produce additional revenue of $3,200 annually to offset increased operating costs.

Try a glass of real beer!

Schaefer
-the light, dry brew with character, too!
Real beer has character. If what comes out of the bottle doesn't have character—well, to our way of thinking, it just isn't real beer.
Character is that unique combination of flavor, bouquet and other basic qualities that makes beer so distinctive a beverage. However, in seeking lightness and dryness, it's easy to go too far and sacrifice character.
But the Schaefer brewers have succeeded in combining lightness and dryness with character. This is an outstanding achievement in the art of brewing. Today's Schaefer is real beer! Try a glass today—we think you'll enjoy it more than any other beer.
OUR HAND HAS NEVER LOST ITS SKILL
